Attendance at a two-day convention and board meeting for members of the Massachusetts Junior Chamber of Commerce hosted by the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce was the largest in the history of the Jaycees.

Over 450 Jaycees from 64 chapters all over the state attended the meetings held at Valle's Steak House in Chestnut Hill on February 18-19.

Highlights of the successful weekend were: An address by Edward M. Kennedy, an entertainment program featuring talent staged by local JC chapters, a Saturday afternoon "Biersteube," sponsored by the Carling Brewing Company of Natick, and the board meeting itself.

Mr. Kennedy, younger brother of President Kennedy, spoke on "Africa — Evolution, Revolution" at the Sunday steak dinner. He was accompanied by Judge James X. Morrissey of Roxbury Municipal Court and introduced by Newton JC President, Warren C. Sylvester of 115 Dickerman Rd., Newton Highlands.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Kennedy said facetiously, "The Jaycees once selected my brother Jack as one of the country's outstanding young men and he went on to become president; they also later chose my brother Bob for the same honor and he is now Attorney General of the U.S. I want you to know that I'd be happy to accept the same award any time."

The Saturday festivities were devoted to fun and frivolity beginning with the popular Biersteube, and old-fashioned party complete with German music and gay costumes. After dinner, Master of Ceremonies Sylvester introduced the Town Criers, a lady barbershop quartet from Needham. A song and dance team of Newton Jaycees and Jayceeettes welcomed the 400 delegates and their wives and

Mayor Signs Peace Pact, Saves Some Local Homes; Prudential Plan Is Factor

Work on the extension of the toll road through Newton will be started this spring if Turnpike Authority Chairman William F. Callahan is able to sell $170 million in bonds to finance the highly controversial project.

That was disclosed after Mayor Donald L. Gibbs signed a peace pact with Callahan in which the Turnpike Authority head made a number of concessions to the City of Newton and Gibbs agreed to call off his fight before the Interstate Commerce Commission which had stalled the toll road plans.

In consenting to the compromise Gibbs made it plain that he did so only because further opposition on his part would jeopardize the proposed $200 million Prudential Centre which is expected to mean so much to the future prosperity of the entire Metropolitan Boston area, including Newton.

While he succeeded in gaining a number of concessions and in saving almost 80 homes and business places which had been slated for destruction, Gibbs levelled a sharp blast at Callahan for the latter's failure to disclose the toll road plans to Newton officials until he was forced to do so.

Meanwhile, municipal officials, businessmen and residents anxiously awaited the impact of the toll road upon the city.

Close to 300 families will be uprooted and forced to find new homes as the dwellings they now occupy will be torn down to make way for the toll road. A number of commercial establishments, including the Star Market and a branch of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Co., also will be razed.

Mayor Gibbs succeeded in securing a commitment from Chairman Callahan that dwellings for 32 families in a West Newton Negro colony would be moved to a new area by the Turnpike Authority. This is expected to cost about $224,000.

Newton May Grow to 95,000 In Ten Years

Newton is expected to gain a little less than 2,000 population in the next decade, according to the revised 1970 population projections by the Greater Boston Economic Study Committee.

The 1950 U. S. Census showed Newton had 81,994 and in 1960 the figure was 82,384. The 1970 projection gives the Garden City an expected population of 95,000.

Callahan also agreed to modify the design of the interchange at Newton Corner in order to save the Elks Building which is assessed for $134,000 and to change the route of the toll road to spare a dozen homes in the Hunnewell Hill section.

Mayor Ends Hard, Five-Month Fight

When Gibbs finally yielded Tuesday and consented to withdraw his petition from the ICC which had stood as a barrier to the toll road, it marked the end of a five-months fight and one which had attracted tremendous public attention in recent weeks.

That Gibbs took his action reluctantly and only because of the fear that he would block the Prudential Centre was evident from the tone of the statement he issued after emerging from Governor Volpe's office where he signed the truce with Callahan.

He made it plain that he is still against the toll road, that he doesn't like the route for the highway and that he resents the secrecy with which Callahan veiled his plans for nearly two years.

"I have signed an agreement with Chairman William F. Callahan of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority in which Mr. Callahan has

Gibbs May Tell Mass Meeting Toll Road Story

The Newton Civic Association has voted unanimously to contact Mayor Donald E. Gibbs and ascertain if he would appear at a mass meeting to report in detail to the citizens of Newton on matters pertaining to his conferences on the Toll Road.

The committee appointed for this purpose consisted of Stanley S. Lowenberg, Champe A. Fisher and James P. Waters.

The Association held a meeting at the home of its president, Mr. Fisher, at 43 Prince St., West Newton. The directors unanimously adopted a resolution expressing "complete support" of Mayor Gibbs' efforts "in behalf of the citizens of Newton in the Toll Road controversy."

Also discussed was the question of fluoridation and it was voted to arrange a public meeting to permit citizens of Newton who debate

Beaver Award Presented To Driver Course Long-Time Newton Scouters Would Add $1 To Car Plate Fee

The Newton School Committee has requested Supt. Charles E. Brown to discuss with school principals their reactions to a bill now before the Legislature which would subsidize driver education in the schools. This money would be raised by adding $1 to the motor registration fee, bringing the total to $7 per car.

This bill (House 635) was described to the School Committee Monday night by Bruce Campbell of the Massachusetts Safety Council. He explained the bill provided that money so collected would go into a special fund for driver-education and training.

$40,000 Quota Is Set For Drive To Enlarge Boy's Club Quarters

An enthusiastic annual meeting of the Newton Boys Club held last night launched plans for raising a goal of $40,000, the amount needed for the renovation of the new building, destined to house the future activities of the growing local organization. The fund raising campaign will start on April 1st.

Allen Lewis, president of the Big Brother Association of Boston, was the principal speaker. He congratulated the Newton Boys Club on its successful operations in this city and explained the functions and meaning of the Big Brother Association.

He concluded with an appeal for everyone to get behind the club in its efforts to raise funds to modernize the new quarters.

President Giles E. Mosher brought the audience up to date on the proposed plans for the new building, the growth of the club and the need for larger quarters.

A feature of the program was the presentation of a plaque to Harold B. Ober, 17-year-old member of the Boys Club, who won the National Senior Pull Up Contest. Edward Bylander, Northeast Regional Director, Boys Clubs of America, made the presentation. Other speakers included Mayor Donald L. Gibbs who stressed the need for larger quarters for the club in welcoming those present to the meeting; Samuel Crocetti, executive director, who presented his staff and complimented them for their dedication in assuring the success of the Club's program; and Norman MacNeil, chairman of the fund raising drive, who announced the April 1st kick-off date for the fund raising campaign.

Milton Shapiro presided at the meeting. Blight Rev. Walter J. Furlong, pastor of Our Lady's parish, gave the invocation; the Rev. Sylvio W. Barrette, pastor of St. Jean's parish, gave the benediction. A coffee hour sponsored by the Mothers Club of the Boys Club followed the meeting.

Officers of the Newton Boys Club for 1961 are as follows: Giles E. Mosher, Jr., president; Norman E. MacNeil, first vice president; W. Edward Wilson, second vice president; Mrs. William G. Carter, secretary;

"Meter Maids" Supported By City Alderman

"Massachusetts cities and towns should be clearly permitted to hire 'meter maids' —parking control officers with specifically limited police powers," Newton Alderman William P. Ripley told the Committee on Public Service at the State House in support of his bill to allow municipalities to hire such personnel.

"The employment of parking control officers in more than 1,300 communities, large and small, in other states has led to better traffic enforcement, more efficient use of parking spaces and substantial savings by the release of patrolmen for regular police duties," he said, citing savings of over $1 million a year in New York City.

Representatives Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., of Newton, who filed the bill for Alderman Ripley told the committee that since at present lawyers have differing opinions about the legality of hiring parking con-

New Haven Railroad Poses Another Crises for Volpe

Governor Volpe has faced one crisis after another during the two months he has served at the head of the State government.

First it was the MTA strike. Then it was the threatened loss of the $200 million Prudential Centre as a result of the dispute over the extension of the toll road.

Now the New Haven Railroad is confronted with the prospect of going bankrupt within the next few weeks unless it gets financial relief from Massachusetts and three other New England states as well as the Federal government.

Volpe himself has declared that he will ask the Legislature to approve a plan under which Massachusetts would provide $1,250,000 a year in assistance for the New Haven for the next four years in order to buy time in which the State may expand rapid transit operations to replace commuter train service.

There is sound logic in the Governor's statement but the fact is that the State for years has been made certain commitments to the City of Newton and I have consented to withdraw my petition before the Interstate Commerce Commission opposing the abandonment of two Boston & Albany tracks," Mayor Gibbs declared.

"I have taken this action with great reluctance and only because further opposition on my part to the extension of the Toll Road would jeopardize the $200 million Prudential Centre which would mean so much to the future economic well-being of the entire Metropolitan Boston area, including Newton.

"If the threatened loss of the Prudential Centre were not the overshadowing factor in this situation, I not only would press to conclusion my petition before the ICC but, if necessary, would carry this matter into the federal court," Gibbs continued.

"While Mr. Callahan has agreed to a number of concessions, my personal opposition to the construction of a toll road through Newton is in no way changed. I strongly believe that a freeway rather than a toll road should be built. I feel that the route of the road should be along the Charles River, not over the B & A roadbed.

"But I have been confronted by a planned crisis—a planned crisis which placed me in the position of causing the loss of the Prudential Centre if I were to finish the fight I have waged for the past five months. Yes, even five years!

"That crisis, in my opinion, has been planned and created by Mr. Callahan to prevent the substitution of a freeway for the toll road he wants to build and to avert any major changes in the route for the road," the Mayor charged.

"This situation could have been entirely avoided if Mr. Callahan had seen fit to confer with Newton officials on the plans for the toll road extension instead of throwing a heavy veil of secrecy around them.

"Newton Mayors—both I and my predecessor, Howard Whitmore, Jr.—have been endeavoring for years to obtain information from Mr. Callahan concerning the route over which he intended to extend the toll road.

Charges Delay By Callahan

"Mr. Callahan signed an agreement with the Boston & Albany back on Dec. 31, 1958, to purchase its roadbed. Yet, it wasn't until Sept. 30, 1960, one year and nine months later, that he conferred with Newton officials concerning the route he planned for the road. He did so then only because on Sept. 26, 1960, I had filed my protest and petition with the ICC," Mayor Gibbs declared.

"When I sought to have a freeway substituted for the toll road, I was told that a crisis existed. When I endeavored to have the route of the road shifted, I was informed that a crisis existed. When I attempted to have the Newton Corner interchange transferred to the Faneuil Yards, I was informed that a crisis existed.

"If a freeway were built instead of a toll road, we would lose Prudential. If the route was shifted, we would lose Prudential. If the route was transferred, there would be no road, and we would lose Prudential. These were planned crises designed to force the construction of a toll road.

"When I proposed that the Newton Corner interchange be shifted to the Faneuil Yards, traffic studies were produced to show that such a change would reduce the number of vehicles using the road from 39,000 to 19,000 per day and that it would mean a loss in revenue of $1,650,000 in the first full year of operation and $2,350,000 in its fifth year. Without the Newton Corner interchange the toll road would not be feasible, the bonds could not be sold, the toll road could not be built, and the Prudential Centre would be lost, I was informed.

"The time to have worked out these details with Mr. Callahan was a year or two years or three years ago, but he then was keeping his plans shrouded in secrecy," Gibbs stated.

"As Mayor of Newton my first responsibility is to the people of my city. I have fought long and hard to protect their interests—as long and as hard as I could without jeopardizing the $200 million investment.

"In the course of my deliberations on this matter I have recognized the validity of statements by representatives of organized labor that both the Prudential Centre and the toll road would be tremendous boons to the construction industry and would create many jobs which are vitally needed.

"Some of the concessions Mr. Callahan has made to Newton are:

"He has agreed to pay $250,000 for the West Newton fire station which is to be taken by the Turnpike Authority.

"He has agreed to provide homes by moving available dwellings for 32 families in a Negro colony of West Newton. This will involve an expense of about $220,000 for the Authority.

"He has promised to modify the design of the interchange at Newton Corner in order to spare the Elks building which is assessed for $134,000," the Mayor asserted.

"He has agreed to deed to the City of Newton land next to the Newton Corner public library which would be used for a parking area.

"He will revise the route of the toll road to save about a dozen homes in the Hunnewell Hill section of Newton.

"He has promised to make every effort to persuade the B & A to continue commuter train service during the construction of the toll road extension.

"He similarly has pledged that he will endeavor to arrange for commuter buses to operate over the toll road if train service is later discontinued," Gibbs said.

"He has agreed to cooperate with any public authority or private corporation or association of commuters, who are financially able and competent to operate a railroad, such as the Boston & Western Suburbs Transportation Council.

well as making several other concessions.

"While I feel that Mr. Callahan was highly unfair to the City of Boston in keeping his plans secret and not conferring with Newton officials until he was forced to do so, the fight is now over.

"I will cooperate with Mr. Callahan to the fullest extent so that this road may be built with a minimum of interference to the City of Newton and with the best design possible," Mayor Gibbs concluded.

The Toll Road Battle

Mayor Gibbs was finally forced to yield in his battle to prevent the construction of a toll road through Newton, but he gained new respect and increased stature for the fight he waged for this city in the face of the unreasoning attacks made upon him.

Logic and reason were on the side of Mr. Gibbs in his determined fight, but the force of powerful pressure was arrayed against him.

When Gibbs argued that a freeway should be built instead of a toll road, or that the highway should be constructed over a different route, or that the interchange at Newton Corner should be transferred to another location, there was always one answer to each point he made.

It wasn't that what Gibbs said was wrong. The inevitable reply was that if Gibbs prevailed on any of those points, the Prudential officials would pack up their kits and go back to Newark, and there would be no $200 million Prudential Centre in Boston.

Whether there will be one now that Gibbs has capitulated after gaining every concession he could for Newton is something only time will determine. Whether William F. Callahan will be able to sell his bonds and build the toll road after all the talk, arguments and fanfare also is uncertain.

One thing which is certain is that Mayor Gibbs is a man who stands by his guns and who doesn't crumble under the most intensive pressure. He fought as long as he could reasonably fight. He didn't win a victory for the city, but he did gain a number of important concessions for it. He deserves tremendous credit.

Warren PTA To Sponsor Noted Musical Groups

A number of local residents will perform in the concert of the Brown University and Simmons College combined glee clubs to be held at the Newton High School auditorium at 8:00 p.m. Saturday, March 4th under the sponsorship of the Warren Junior High School P. T. A.

Cliff Adelman of Brookline, Lars Rydell and James Brines of Wellesley, Mike Hamlin of Natick, and Michael Broomfield of Chestnut Hill are all members of the Brown University group. This glee club is under the direction of Prof. David Laurent, well known concert baritone, who has appeared regularly with the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

The Simmons College glee club will be directed by Prof. Burton A. Cleaves of Wellesley, and is equally well known in musical circles. Sally Flowers and Camela Wilson, both of Newton, are members of this group and will appear in the concert.

Many of the alumni of both schools will be in the audience on March 4th. Remaining tickets will be sold at the door until 8 p.m. on the evening of the performance.

Smith College Club to Hold Play March 4

The Smith College Club of Newton met recently to hear Miss Viola May and Mrs. Thomas S. Derr report on the annual Smith College Council which met recently in Northampton.

Highlights of the Council were a talk by Miss Doris Silbert, new dean of the college, and the concluding address by Florence May Kellet, Class of 1934, the first woman presiding justice of domestic relations in New York City.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Krotzschmar in West Newton. Club members also heard a report on their fund raising project, a children's play, "The Tinderness," to be given March 4th at the Newton High School.

Visiting Nurse Meeting To Hear College Professor

The Newton Visiting Nurse Association will have as speaker at the annual meeting March 13, Miss L. Ann Conley, professor of nursing, director of the School of Nursing at Simmons College.

Miss Conley has a B.S.T.C. degree from Columbia University and a M.P.H. from the School of Public Health, Harvard University. She will speak on "Trends in Nursing Education." Miss Conley was assistant director of the Visiting Nurse Association, Detroit. During the war, she served a stint with the U. S. Public Health Service as a nursing consultant and acting chief nurse of V.N.R.R.A., Egypt, Italy, Yugoslavia, and Washington.

In addition to her duties at Simmons College, she is on the board of directors of the National League for Nursing, a member of the Expert Committee on Nursing, World Health Organization, a fellow of the American Public Health Association and a member of the Defense Advisory Committee on Women in the Services.

The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting to be held at agency headquarters, 1990 Washington street, Newton Lower Falls. The meeting starts at 2 p.m. and refreshments will be served before Miss Conley's talk.

Curtis Files Sub-clerks Pay Bill Correction

Cong. Laurence Curtis (R-Mass.) recently re-introduced in the House his bill to remove a discrimination against substitute clerks and carriers in the postal service, who under existing law are not entitled to the same overtime rates as regular employees.

The Congressman's bill has the full support of the National Federation of Post Office Clerks.

"Many of these employees are substitutes in name only. They work more than full time and perform the same duties as regular employees, yet they are denied overtime benefits simply because their title is different. This injustice needs to be corrected," the Congressman said.

"Correction of this longstanding injustice to substitute employees by enactment of my proposal would, I believe, be a great morale booster and would bring the Department's wage practices more in line with those employed by private industry."

Man's Heritage Sunday Subject

A hopeful message of universal freedom will be delivered in Christian Science churches Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Man." Man's rightful heritage of freedom will be brought out in the Scriptural selections which include Paul's advice to the Colossians (3:9-11): "Lie not one to another seeing that ye have put off the old man with his deeds; and have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him: where there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcion, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free; but Christ is all, and in all."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read (227:24-26): "Citizens of the world, accept the glorious liberty of the children of God, and be free! This is your divine right."

ler was chairman of the meeting.

A petition has been filed with the Board of Aldermen to continue Adeline Rd. through to Route 9, and to erect 34 two-story garden-type apartments with parking facilities for 51 automobiles.

Residents of the area involved are making strenuous efforts to have a large crowd on hand at the hearing to voice opposition to the zoning change.

Newly elected members of the board of directors are: Frank D. Mills, Fidelity Investment Corporation; Attorney Dennis J. Driscoll, Hood Rubber Company; and Philip Bram, Bram's Inc. The nominating committee report was given by Ralph Sanguinetti, chairman.

Driver Course-

Dr. Brown pointed out that Newton took the behind-the-wheel phase of driver education out of the classroom because of the time factor of fitting it into the school schedule. It now is part of the adult evening program.

School Committee Chairman Haskell Freedman asked Mr. Campbell whether he was familiar with the theory that driver education is not the responsibility of the public school. Campbell said he would place it at least on a par with such courses as home economics.

The School Committee asked Dr. Brown to discuss the matter with the school principals and relay their reactions next Saturday.

JUDITH ADELMAN

Candidate For State Homemaker

Judith Adelman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Adelman, 12 Sunhill Lane, Newton Centre, has been announced as the 1961 Betty Crocker "Homemaker of Tomorrow" winner for Newton South High School.

Having received the highest score in a written examination on homemaking attitudes and knowledge taken by graduating seniors in her school, she became a candidate for the state "Homemaker of Tomorrow" award which will be announced in March.

State Homemakers of Tomorrow and their faculty advisors will receive an all-expense educational tour to New York City, Colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Washington, D.C., April 8-13, the trip culminating in the announcement of the All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow as the winner of a $5,000 scholarship. State Homemakers receive a $1,500 scholarship and their runners-up a $500 scholarship. Second, third and fourth ranking national Homemakers will receive $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships respectively. A record 402,786 girls in 12,633 schools throughout the nation participated this year.

Rev. Rouser To Speak at Lenten Service March 8

The Rev. Arthur Rouser, Jr., minister of Eliot Church, Congregational, and author of the book, "The Congregational Way of Life," will speak at the Union Lenten Services of the Newton Methodist Church and the Eliot Church at the Methodist Church, Wednesday, March 8th, 7:45 p.m.

The theme for the Lenten Series held by the two churches is: "Living Christian Biographies." Mr. Rouser's topic will be: "A Woman Named Grace." On March 15th the subject will be: "A Small Town Saint," and on March 22nd, "A Man in Christ." Dr. Paul Uhlinger, minister of the Methodist Church, has brought three messages at the first sessions at the Eliot Church.

Fifteen Newton High School students have been selected to participate in an exchange program planned and sponsored by the Newton High Associate Council under the leadership of the President, Peter B. Sahlin.

Purpose of the exchange is to acquaint the students with the facts and operation of city and town government. Towns chosen for this particular exchange are Hudson, Grafton, and Canton.

Representing Newton will be: Karen Secunda, Karen Rothstein, Roy Reiss, John Steinburg, Maureen Gratto, Jane Malool, Dan Wood, David Yeo, Marsha Katz, David Fox, Ken Smith, Annette Kasabian, William Goodale, John Manners and Chester Black; Mr. McDonald and Mr. Hinkle are advisors.

Each exchange group is assembling a kit containing information about the town and exchange. These kits will be entered in a contest and prizes will be awarded at a later date.

Typical agenda for an exchange includes: arrival and orientation, lunch at the school cafeteria, instruction period stressing town or city government, tour of the town or city, dinner sponsored by a local organization followed by attendance at a town meeting.

Newton High Wins Second Track Title

Newton High's well-balanced track team has annexed its second consecutive Division I Met. Track League championship with a perfect 5-0 record on the season, topped by Saturday's 55 to 20 victory over Weymouth at the E. Newton St. Armory in Boston.

A highlight was the new record of 3:47 set by the Newton mile relay team which bettered the old mark of 3:49 set earlier this season by Rindge Tech's quarter milers. Dick Carle got his mates off to the new mark by turning in a 55.0 quarter, one of the fastest ever clocked in the Armory on a schoolboy runner.

The only events which Newton did not win first place were the 1000 yard run, high jump and hurdles. Newton shut out Weymouth in the 600 and the shot put, the latter event going to sophomore Larry Kemelgor with a heave of 45 feet.

Purim Party To Be Held Sunday

A Purim party jointly sponsored by the congregation and sisterhood of Beth El-Atereth Israel, will be held in the social hall, 581 Ward Street, Newton Centre, on Sunday evening, March 5, at 8 o'clock.

Aaron A. Silver, president of the congregation, and Mrs. Isadore Rosenbloom, sisterhood president, will head the committee. The program will include songs, prizes, audience participation, games and refreshments.

Political Highlights

served notice on Governor Volpe that Allen is not acceptable to them. But acceptable or not, they apparently are going to get him as the new GOP State chairman.

Some prominent Republican politicians privately express the belief that Volpe has weakened himself by the mistakes he has made since assuming office and that he is not in nearly as strong a position on Beacon Hill today as he was two months ago.

The major error they cite was Volpe's action in starting a fight against the extension of the toll road from Weston to Boston and then backing gingerly away when he realized he had placed himself in a position of jeopardizing the $200 million Prudential Centre.

Volpe also caused eyebrow-lifting by the professional politicians when he bypassed his campaign manager, Mayor Lawrence W. Lloyd of Melrose, who wanted the job as State Commissioner of Public Safety and expected to get it. Instead Volpe nominated former U.S. Marshal Robert Beaudreau of Marlboro.

While Beaudreau is well qualified for the position, political observers surmise that Volpe's decision in choosing him for the post was motivated principally by the fact that he has the same racial background as J. Henry Goguen whom he would replace.

In any event, the Executive Committee bottled up the Beaudreau nomination in committee and placed it "on ice," as the State House politicians would say. No explanation was given for the action. The only logical reason is that Goguen is a Democrat and Beaudreau a Republican.

Now Volpe is in a position where an appointment, which drew a public expression of disappointment by his own campaign manager, has been stalled by the Democratic Council.

A number of Democratic and Republican legislators also are resentful over the fact that Volpe has publicly requested them to enact a Code of Ethics into law.

It isn't that they object to the specific provisions in the Code of Ethics. It is the implication that a special law and a watchdog committee are needed to prevent them from doing wrong.

That certainly will not enhance Volpe's chances of winning his fight on the controversial plan for saving the New Haven Railroad from bankruptcy or of mustering the necessary two-thirds vote for the passage of the highway bond issue.

The likelihood is that Volpe will accomplish the reorganization of the MTA, but after he does there will be a serious question of exactly what he has gained.

On the measure for the overhaul of the MTA Volpe will be able to muster almost a unanimous Republican vote, and the union leaders will be able to line up a majority of the Democrats. So it's difficult to see how Volpe can lose that test.

After his bill is, enacted however, and the present trustees are thrown out and new ones appointed, Volpe will run head-on into the problem of whether to fire or retain tart-tongued General Manager Thomas J. McLernon.

Volpe and some of his top advisors want to get rid of McLernon. The union leaders be demanding that McLernon be given the heave-ho. But the officials of the 14 cities and towns served by the transit system believe McLernon may be able to cut down the road's deficit, and they will try to give him a chance to show if he can

Letter Answers Letter

Newton Graphic,
To the Editor:
I am afraid your correspondent of Feb. 23 has missed the point entirely of my letter of the previous week.

No attack on Dr. Phillips was intended. (He could hardly have been expected to adequately present a position he opposes.) My letter was a plea for an opportunity to hear both sides of the question; since many people, including me, are not quite so inclined to view as dogma the opinions of the medical and dental societies and the Public Health Service as your correspondent apparently is.

Perhaps I can illustrate my point best by quoting from the Illinois Medical Journal, August 1960 and Sept. 1960, in which were reported the transcripts of a panel presented by a group of distinguished doctors and biostatisticians before the Section on Preventive Medicine and Public Health at the annual meeting of the Illinois State Medical Society.

Some amazing statements were made concerning the Salk vaccine which I feel may have a bearing on the present argument.

On statistics used by the Public Health Service, Dr. Bernard G. Greenberg, Ph.D., of the University of North Carolina School of Public Health and former chairman of the committee on Evaluation and Standards of the American Public Health Association, says "A scientific examination of the data, and the manner in which the data were manipulated, will reveal that the true effectiveness of the present Salk vaccine is unknown and greatly overrated." He goes on to say that new diagnostic standards have been primarily responsible for the "drop" in paralytic polio.

On potency — Dr. Herbert Ratner, associate professor of preventive medicine and public health, Stritch School of Medicine, "Back in May, 1957, the largest producer of Salk vaccine in the United States has several million dollars worth of vaccine on hand which did not pass the minimum potency requirements of the U.S.P.H.S. Subsequently, the Division of Biological Standards reinterpreted the minimum requirements to should be wiped out and replaced by a single executive. The Councilors went on to say that they want to wait and see what happens to Governor Volpe's proposal for revamping the MDC before they confirm any appointments to a commission which may be legislated out of existence.

Of course, the real reason O'Brien's appointment was blocked was that he sided with Volpe in a campaign dispute with Joseph D. Ward last fall. The Executive Councilors know, as does just about everyone else on Beacon Hill, that the Governor's plan for reorganizing the MDC will meet a quick death soon after it reaches the House of Representatives.

The overriding significance of the action of the Executive Council in stalling two of Volpe's appointments was that the members of the all-Democratic body were pointedly serving notice on the Governor that his political honeymoon period is over and that he can no longer expect routine approval of his nominations.

This could touch off a full-fledged battle between the Republican Governor and the Democratic Council and one which might last to the end of Volpe's term. Political observers will be watching that situation closely for further developments.

Church Chuckles by CARTWRIGHT

make possible the commercial utilization of this vaccine."

On safety: Dr. Ratner says "... At present epidemiological methods employed by the U. S. P.H.S. to assure safety of this vaccine are inadequate."

On public information—Dr. Paul Meier, a biostatistician from the University of Chicago—"How is it that today you hear from members of this panel that the Salk vaccine situation is confused; yet what everybody knows from reading the newspapers, and has known since the vaccine was introduced, is that the situation as far as the Salk vaccine is concerned, was and is marvelous? The reason for this discrepancy lies, I think, in a new attitude of many public health and publicity men. It is hard to convince the public that something is good. Consequently, the best way to push forward a new program is to decide on what you think the best decision is and not question it thereafter, and further, not to raise questions before the public or EXPOSE THE PUBLIC TO OPEN DISCUSSION OF THE ISSUES."

The letter to which I have replied is another example of how desperate and ill-informed those opposing fluoridation are on this subject.

Professor Explains

Dear Sirs:
A letter in your issue of February 16 states that I have said the fluoridation "battle can be resolved by forgetting the water and leaving the job to greater use of fish in the diet."

This is a completely erroneous statement and I hope you will permit me to correct it. The statement is based on a carelessly reported item in the New York Times of last June referring to a talk I made at the dedication of a new laboratory for fish research in Gloucester. Actually, not one word of my talk dealt with fluoridation because the audience asked me to talk about diet and heart disease. But the press release of what I had intended to say included the following paragraph.

One usually does not hear much about fluorine as a mineral nutrient, yet it has

"Know Your Money" Test On Display At Bank Here

The Newton Savings Bank announces that it will offer the public an unusual opportunity to try its hand at distinguishing between counterfeit and genuine money.

Benjamin F. Louis, vice president and treasurer, has announced a "Know Your Money" display, as a public service, at the Newton main office and branches during the next two months on the following dates:

At 101 Union Street, Newton Centre, March 6 through the 17th; at 43 Lincoln Street, Newton Highlands, March 20 through the 31st; at 286 and 289 Washington Street, Newton Corner, from April 3 through the 14th, and at 9 Boylston Street, Chestnut Hill, from April 14 through May 6.

The display will feature an assortment of bills ranging in denomination from $1 to $50, some genuine, some counterfeit. Below each bill is a number. The same number appears on one of the 14 switch keys along the front of the display.

To test one's skill, a person simply selects what he believes to be a counterfeit or genuine bill, then pushes the corresponding switch key. This, in turn, will flash a signal light on the back panel which correctly identifies the bill; red, if counterfeit; green, if genuine.

School Board Chairman Is PTA Speaker

At the monthly meeting of the Newton P.T.A. Council last Thursday night, the chairman of the Newton School Committee spoke on educational problems of Newton in particular and Massachusetts generally and answered questions from the members of the council. The meeting was presided over by Jerome Grossman and held at the old Pelce School on Chestnut St. in West Newton.

Mr. Freedman told the Council that Newton ranks among the first 10-15 school systems in the country. Contributing to this remarkable standing is the fact that Newton has a non-political school committee and that the community has always been strongly in support of good schools. The relationship between the School Committee and the teachers and also with the Aldermen of the City is good, even though there may be occasional, honest differences of opinion.

Mr. Freedman feels that Newton is fortunate to have as able a superintendent as Dr. Charles E. Brown as well as two excellent principals for the two High Schools.

Of educators generally he said that they are not paid highly enough, and he feels that this country can afford to pay more for education. He would particularly like to see more men attracted to the teaching profession, where at present they are outnumbered 3-1 by women.

Mr. Freedman said that personally he was in favor of Federal Aid to Education as one way of obtaining money without having to raise real estate taxes constantly. Although he would like to see this aid coming from the state, he saw no hope for any greater contributions from the Commonwealth in the future. Massachusetts now provides 17% of the annual budget as against contributions of 40% in other states. He warned however, against expecting too much of a federal aid program. Massachusetts would receive about $12 million per year for three years to be used for teacher salaries or school building. If every teacher in the Commonwealth were to receive an increase of only $100, it would require $3 1/2 million to pay for it.

The school committee chairman felt that a sales tax specifically allocated to Education might be feasible, as the public might be more willing to contribute to it in this form. It is estimated that such a sales-tax would increase the educational budget of the Commonwealth by 150%.

Mrs. Richard Mintz, vice-president of the Council, announced that the annual regional conference, sponsored by the Newton P.T.A. Council, will be held on May 18 at the Newton South High School. A keynote address, workshops and dinner are planned.

The program co-ordinator, Dr. Thomas Brower, spoke of the results of his inquiry into programs for P.T.A. meetings and outlined a vast variety of interesting topics that could be used in the future.

Guests included Dr. Charles E. Brown, Dr. Donald Davidson, Newton South High School principal, and Mr. Donald Welch, consultant in Elementary Education.

Dividend Is Declared By Newton Bank

George L. White, president of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, announced today that the bank's Board of Directors has declared a stock dividend in the ratio of 5 1/2% for each share held as of the close of business on February 15th.

The Board of Directors also voted that the capital be increased from its present amount of $1,320,000 to $2,000,000 to be represented by 200,000 shares of $10 par value each. This increase in capital will enable the Newton-Waltham Bank to make larger loans and to improve banking services. In the opinion of the Board of Directors and management, the increase was deemed advisable because of expanding deposits and growth of business and will be advantageous to customers and stockholders.

Mr. White stated that the stock dividend is in addition to the extra quarterly cash dividend which was voted at the recent Board meeting.

Where You Save DOES Make a Difference

by don herold

We all have to be brave -- and SAVE

Sure, who wouldn't like a mink cape, a new model car or a motorcycle RIGHT NOW? Store windows are full of temptations. Ads entice. Salesmen are seductive.

But folks with character save first — spend second. It takes — well, guts, to say "No" to our own desires. But if we didn't, we could all be in debt all the time.

Buying on the installment plan usually calls for 5 to 7% doubled, making 10% or more. But if you save first at Watertown Federal and THEN buy, you save interest and earn good dividends.

Headlights and Highlights From Newton South High

By JUDY BURAKOFF

Since most college applications have been filed some time ago, many seniors are beginning to hear from the various institutions. Each day it is common to look around the corridors and determine the gleeful faces of the happy and satisfied students.

Even still there is much excitement and anxiety among the seniors as they await the end of the day to rush home to see if the mailbox contains any news.

The senior class owes a debt of thanks to the secretaries who were able to keep ahead of the number of applications and transcripts that had to be sent to the various schools.

Next fall there will be two newspapers, one for each high school. A staff of N.S.H.S. and N.H.S. students has been chosen to continue the "Newtonite" until June. When the time comes, necessary adjustments will be made to form another staff for a paper of Newton South High School.

Easter Seal Newton Goal Is $5,000

Miss Ruth Burns, assistant vice president of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, Newton Centre, will serve as area treasurer for the Easter Seal appeal in the Newton Area.
Christian A. Herter Jr., general campaign chairman, made the announcement today and said the local goal is $5,000.
"Through your interest in the Easter Seal Society," he said, "more than 18,000 of Massachusetts' crippled children and adults are leading happier lives. The tragedy is that crippling accidents and illnesses strike one in every six families in the state each year. Crippled children and adults now being served need continued help while thousands more wait for the help the Easter Seal Society can provide when funds are available.
"I know that everyone in the community," Herter continued, "will want to contribute during the Easter Seal month toward the continuation, expansion and development of services which the physically handicapped of all ages need."

Several of the dens exhibited handicrafts made from "genius kits" during the previous month, and they were of such a high caliber that all the entries received honorable mention by Colonel Jones in the remarks he made to the pack.

Speedy arrest of an Auburndale bartender in connection with an alleged hit-and-run auto accident in which a Watertown cafe owner was killed has led to commendation of Patrolman Joseph Arnold and Sgt. William Quinn by Acting Chief Charles E. Walker.
Julius J. Polsell, 32, of 45 William St., West Newton, was turned over to Watertown police in connection with the death of Louis DeVincentis, 49, of Watertown, who was struck in Watertown Sq. early Tuesday.
Acting Chief Walker said in his order read at roll call:
"Officer Arnold had no description of the car nor information regarding facts of the accident when, by his vigilance, he observed the particular and checked it out. The arrest was 1 1/2 hours after the accident occurred."
Sgt. Quinn led the Newton and Watertown police to the Auburndale cafe where Polsell was arrested. His car was found parked in the rear of the building.

Petition For Zoning Change For Apartment

A petition for change of zoning on 20,740 square feet of land on North St., Newtonville, from Private Residence to Residence D was brought before the Newton Planning Board and Aldermanic Claims and Rules Committee last Friday night.

The petitioner, Dominic Vergato, told the board he planned to build garden-type apartment buildings on the site. The land abuts a 7,000 square foot parcel also owned by Mr. Vergato, which is now in Residence D zoning.

Opposition to Mr. Vergato's petition was led by George Hillier of 120 North St., who objected to the removal of the restriction on Pratt Drive, a dead end street.

State to Face New Crisis If New Haven Ends Service

Massachusetts will be confronted with a transportation crisis affecting many thousands of persons if Governor Volpe's bill calling for a four-year plan of public aid to the New Haven Railroad is rejected by the Legislature.

Prospects for the passage of the measure appear extremely dim unless some agreement is made for an almost immediate change in the management of the road which has come in for sharp criticism from officials of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The situation is one which might force the State to enter the public transportation field on a vast scale in order to avert a chaotic condition.

Volpe has made it plain that his primary objective is not to save the New Haven from bankruptcy but rather to keep its lines operating in Massachusetts in order to buy time so that the State may prepare plans in preparation for the day when it will be obliged to provide substitute service.

However, there is great doubt that Volpe will be able to secure the time he wants because many legislators are reluctant to vote any public aid to the New Haven. The debate on the Governor's plan is certain to be a furious one, with many members of his own party opposing it.

If the measure finally is defeated, as now appears probable, it almost certainly would mean the end of all New Haven commuter train service in Massachusetts. That could happen within a matter of weeks.

Arrests of two youths and a Dorchester juvenile have solved some 50 breaks in Boston, Milton and Brookline but police are investigating the possibility the trio might be implicated in the recent wave of burglaries in the Garden City.

Charles E. Royce 17, of 16 Arbutus St., and David N. Libby, 17, of 165 Fuller St., both Dorchester, were arrested at gunpoint while hiding in the home of Gordon A. The Royce and Libby boys pleaded guilty when arraigned in Newton District Court on Monday before Judge Donald E. Mayberry on a charge of breaking and entering in the nighttime with intent to commit larceny. Both were

MAKES IT OFFICIAL — Two stars of a Major General are pinned on shoulder of Michael J. Galvin, of Newton, by his wife, Eleanor, after White House announced promotion. "Iron Mike" Galvin was once a private in Army Division he now commands.

Another Chapter In Army Success Story

"Iron Mike" Galvin Gets 2 Stars Of Major General

A prominent Newton resident wrote another chapter to an amazing success story last week when word was received from the White House that he had been promoted to Major General in the Army Reserve.

Michael J. Galvin, of 107 Hobart rd., Commanding Officer of the crack 94th Infantry Pentomic Reserve Division, thus takes another step up the ladder in the division he once served in as a private.

A prominent Boston attorney and former Under Secretary of Labor during the Truman administration, Gen. Galvin becomes one of the youngest men in the reserve to hold the rank of Major General.

Galvin, father of five, began his army career in 1928 when he enlisted as an infantry rifleman. He rose steadily through the ranks and during World War II served with the 8th Armored Division from D-Day, Normandy to VE Day. He won the Silver Star, Bronze Star, French Croix de Guerre and Legion of Merit in addition to 14 battle citations.

At the completion of this world strife, Galvin received an unusual tribute from Secretary of State and former General of the Army George Catlett Marshall who said: "No reservists served with more distinction in World War II than Iron Mike Galvin."

An expert on both nuclear and conventional warfare and the author of four volumes on Manpower and Defense, Galvin took command of the 94th a year ago. The division then went on to win top national rating among Pentomic Units during its field training phase the following summer.

Following the announcement of his promotion, General Galvin was invited to address the State Legislature by Speaker of the House John Thompson last Monday.

Citizens Raise Opposition Chorus To Apartment Plans

More than 100 residents of the Newton Centre area appeared at City Hall late last week to oppose the construction of a $250,000 garden-type apartment development near the new South High School. The 32-apartment units would be housed in four two-story brick buildings on three acres of land on Boylston st. near Hurley Place, according to the builders who are seeking a change of zoning on the tract.

Under the proposed rezoning, the builders, Charles C. Nardone and Earl B. White, would construct a new access road to the South High School from the Turnpike.

Atty. John Finelli, representing Nardone and White, contended that, if the petition were not granted, the land would remain undeveloped and the city would, at its own expense, have to take the site and build the road.

Finelli declared that the development would bring additional revenue to the city, provide living quarters for teachers at the new school and help to provide homes for senior citizens and others who will be displaced by the land takings for the toll road extension.

Opposition spokesman, Atty. George Michaels, representing home owners near the site, said that valuation of nearby homes would be decreased by an estimated $675,000. He said that Mr. Nardone had been constructing $28-$40,000 homes in the area since 1962.

with the guarantee that the area would be developed only for single homes.

The petition was taken under advisement by the Planning Board and Aldermanic Claims and Rules Committee.

Named To Real Estate Section Of Heart Drive

Robert J. Burns, 12 Frederick Street, Newtonville, has been appointed chairman of the real estate section of the 1961 Heart Fund drive according to the announcement this week by State Chairman John B. Hynes, former mayor of Boston.

A well known realtor, Mr. Burns will head a vital wing of the Massachusetts Heart Association's annual campaign to raise funds.

A prediction that Turnpike Authority Chairman William F. Callahan will have difficulty selling the bonds to finance the extension of the toll road from Weston through Newton to Boston, was made by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and ex-Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., in speeches to an overflow crowd of 1500 persons at a meeting held Monday night in the Newton High School Auditorium under the auspices of the Newton Civic Association.

Both Gibbs and Whitmore publicly expressed the hope that Callahan will be unable to sell his bonds. This would force the abandonment of the project and probably would result in swift steps by Governor Volpe for the construction of a freeway instead of a toll road. Callahan has voiced confidence he will be able to find a market for his bonds.

If the bonds are sold by mid-May, eviction notices would be sent out by the Turnpike Authority in June or July to the owners and occupants of slightly more than 300 houses and business places to be razed to make way for the toll road, Gibbs estimated.

The Mayor said that business concerns will be forced to vacate their premises within 30 days after getting their notices but that the occupants of dwellings, while they also will be sent 30-day eviction orders, will automatically be granted 90-day extensions if they so request by registered mail.

Notwithstanding the forecast by Gibbs and Whitmore that the Turnpike Authority will have a problem in selling its bonds, the Newton Community Council is mapping plans to assist residents in the path of the toll road route to find new homes, and the Chamber of Commerce is developing a program to help with the relocation of business places.

Mayor Gibbs told the big audience he had made the best bargain he could for Newton and its residents before dropping his fight and agreeing to a compromise which allowed Callahan to go ahead with plans for the toll road extension.

The Mayor made it plain that he recognized he eventually would have lost and would have gained nothing for the city if he had waged his fight to the finish before the ICC and then had carried it to the federal court.

MAYOR HAD TO BE PRACTICAL

He emphasized that he is strongly opposed to a toll road but added that he had to be practical and make the best deal he could for the city.

Both Gibbs and Whitmore

Kindergarten Age May Be Lowered

A proposal for lowering the kindergarten entrance age for children able to pass intelligence tests is being weighed by the Newton School Committee. Under the existing rules children must be 4 years and 9 months old on Oct. 1 to enter kindergarten. That requirement would be reduced to 4 years and 6 months for those who could pass the test.

Saville B. Davis, managing editor of the Christian Science Monitor, will be the guest speaker. Subject of his talk will be "A New American Foreign Policy."

Mr. Davis, a former foreign correspondent and now managing editor, is a specialist in the foreign policy of the United States. He has covered this field, at home and abroad, for his newspaper for the past two decades.

Newton Plans Repairs For Two Streets

Public Works Director William S. Pratt has reported that reconstruction of a part of Centre St., Newton, and a portion of Woodward St., Waban, will constitute the city's 1961 Chapter 90 highway program, under which the state and county share the major portion of the cost. Reconstruction of the two portions will cost $161,800.

Newton's 1960 Chapter 90 program of reconstructing over 5,000 feet of Dedham St., from Parker to Winchester Sts., gets under way early in Spring. A request for bids has been issued by the Department of Public Works.

Director Pratt also has announced that the city's 1960 road improvement program consisted of more than five miles of street construction at a cost of over $925,000.

Women Voters Give Position On Foreign Aid

Mrs. Isidor Slotnik, president of the Newton League of Women Voters, has notified Senators Leverett Saltonstall and Benjamin Smith of the Newton League's position relating to the hearings on the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development Convention.

The following is a direct quotation from Mrs. Slotnik's statement: "The League of Women Voters of the United States has long supported Economic Assistance to the underdeveloped countries as well as the expansion of world trade. As the proposed Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) would provide a forum for discussions of how the twenty member nations can increase the flow of resources to the underdeveloped countries and would provide an instrument for greater cooperation in overall economic policies, we urge approval of the convention."

The Newton League is currently studying economic policy, and has, as a result of intensive study during 1958-1960, reached a consensus on some of the broader issues of foreign aid.

Easter Bunny In Big Parade Next Saturday

Shoppers' World, Framingham, will be the scene of a gala Easter Bunny Parade on Saturday morning, March 18, starting at 9:30 o'clock. The parade will be along the inner ring road, and access to and from the center will be kept open at all times.

Bozo the Clown, the Magic Princess, and Miss Jean of TV's Romper Room will distribute chocolate Easter eggs to the children as they circulate through the crowd and then return to the parade.

Many musical organizations are scheduled to take part, including the present State Champion drum and bugle corps, the Cambridge Caballeros, The Spectacular Omar Grotto Band, and the famed Clan MacPherson Kiltie Bagpipe Band are among the outstanding units which will provide music in the parade.

There will be clowns galore of all sizes and shapes and thirty famous fairy tale characters, including several dwarfs, to amuse the youngsters and grown-ups alike. Sixteen dashing cowboys and glamorous cowgirls on horseback will add a Western flavor to the spectacle.

The climax of the big parade will be the arrival of the Easter Bunny himself in his gaily colored basket. A fitting finale to the parade will be the appearance of the original Barnum & Bailey circus callope.

Fluoride Proponents See Recent Defeats An Asset

The recent defeats suffered by fluoridation proponents in Wellesley, Brookline and Andover may be an asset to the pro-fluoride group in Newton, according to Irving Fishman, co-chairman of the petition drive of the Newton Citizen's Committee for Dental Health.

"People who weren't at all concerned about the issue a few weeks ago are coming forward to help in the fluoridation drive because of the defeat of the issue in last week's town elections in other communities," he said.

The fluoridation of the Newton water supply is supported by the Newton-Wellesley Dental Society, the Charles River District Medical Society, the Newton Health Department, the governing board of the Newton Community Council, the Newton Pharmacists' Association the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association and the Newton Visiting Nurse Association.

In opposition, the Rev.

Thomas Reed of the Citizens Right Committee, an anti-fluoridation group, said that he felt the recent defeats of the fluoridation issue were a part of a national trend in which more communities were rejecting fluoridation than accepting it.

blasted Callahan for cloaking the toll road plans in secrecy until he was forced to reveal them after Gibbs filed his protest with the ICC opposing the right of the Boston & Albany to sell its roadbed to the Turnpike Authority.

Callahan also was scored by Gibbs for building up his political power by handing out jobs to the relatives of legislators. Gibbs made that statement in response to a question as to how Callahan had become so powerful. He observed that legislators are not disposed to vote to fire their sons-in-law out of jobs.

Mayor Gibbs said he felt Newton should make the best out of the toll road situation. "We were handed a lemon so let's make lemonade out of it," he declared. He said the extension of the toll road could result in the rebirth of Newton Centre as a modern shopping section.

Ex-Mayor Whitmore praised Gibbs for doing everything humanly possible to protect Newton during the toll road controversy.

"I personally do not think this matter is over yet," Whitmore declared. "There is still a hearing before the Boston Redevelopment Authority, and the bonds have yet to be sold."

Whitmore said the present income from the toll road amounts to only 66 per cent of original estimates and is not meeting the equalized debt service.

"There's still a chance," asserted Whitmore. "Let's not be cowards. When 320 families are to be made homeless for private gain — and that includes Prudential — it doesn't make sense," he stated.

If that many homes were wiped out by a tornado, it would be headlined as a disaster across the nation, said Whitmore who added that this "man-made disaster is the worst blot in the history of Massachusetts."

While declaring that Newton is certain to survive "What Price Prudential or the Tragedy of the Turnpike Tornado," Whitmore said the refusal of the Turnpike Authority over a long period of time to reveal the route for the toll road extension caused needless hardship for the Garden City.

Whitmore quoted Callahan as telling him in September, 1956, that the toll road route was not then decided upon but that when it was worked out public hearings would be held in both Newton and Boston. "You and I both know there have been no public hearings anywhere," the ex-Mayor exclaimed.

"Nothing is more reprehensible than the way this entire matter has been handled," Whitmore stated.

City Planner Charles E. Downe deplored the lack of adequate highway and city planning, observing that this happens too often in Massachusetts. He said Newton had no opportunity to work with the Turnpike Authority of officials.

Mayor Gibbs announced that any persons who desire to inspect plans for the toll road extension to determine whether their properties are to be taken may see the plans on file in the engineering department on the ground floor of City Hall.

never came up with anyone. They sought to interest former VA Administrator and ex-Lieutenant Governor Sumner G. Whitier of Everett in standing for the chairmanship, but Whitier at the time was under consideration for the $35,000-a-year post as head of the Blue Cross in Michigan, and he displayed no interest in returning to the hurly-burly of Massachusetts politics at $12,000 a year.

Giles and Lamson both informed Volpe that Allen was not acceptable to them. Volpe, however, already had made a commitment that Allen could have the position, and he sent out his letter to the GOP State Committee members which settled the issue.

Even though Allen was elected unanimously, however, there were rumbles of discontent in the background, and the Republican party still wasn't the big happy family the Governor hoped it would be. In fact, Volpe has some ruffled feelings to smooth down and some party bumps and bruises to heal — if he can find the time.

Messrs. Lamson and Giles, whose complete support Volpe desperately needs in the Legislature, had no comment after Allen's election. But they obviously viewed it with a singular lack of enthusiasm.

Even gloomier than Lamson and Giles about the whole matter were the employees at Republican State headquarters, all of them slated to be eased out by Allen who is bringing in an entirely new staff. Some of them have long been workers in the Republican ranks.

Allen will take not only zest and zeal but also some novel ideas into his new job with him. One of his plans, it is understood, is to prepare a "book" on the weak points of the prominent Democrats who may be seeking election to major State offices in Massachusetts next fall.

To do this Allen is planning to bring a woman public relations and research expert here from the Middle West and pay her $9000 a year. That has caused a lifting of political eyebrows since the lady presumably would have to spend months learning what local observers already know about the Democratic politicians.

'Tis St. Patrick's Day

St. Patrick's Day is with us again tomorrow. 'Tis a day for good cheer, for a song and a jig, and the "Wearin' of the Green."

There'll be marching and fun-making and the lifting of a cup or two of the stuff that cheers. It's a great day, whether you're Irish or not. In fact, Americans of many racial derivations will put on a spot of green — a tie, a bit of ribbon, or a carnation in honor of the great saint honored on March 17th.

But, it's a special day for those of Irish lineage, however near, or far removed, from the Ould Sod.

'Tis a day to be proud, to lighten the step, to whistle an Irish tune and to revive the hallowed memories of the Land of Saints and Scholars.

There's a little bit of Ireland in every land throughout the globe and that spot will glow bright green on the morrow. Sons of Erin will breast the brisk winds and march up Fifth Avenue as thousands cheer; other legions will step snappily along the winding streets of old South Boston and the green will be proudly displayed everywhere. Irish soldiers in the United Nations contingent in the Congo will wear sprigs of shamrock flown to them from home.

All in all, it will be a day for human warmth and for remembering, for honoring a militant saint and all the glorious precepts for which he fought and for which he is immortal this day. It is unique among days to be specially observed. All of us are the better for pausing once a year to mark it and to make it a part of our life.

Political Highlights

Intimations have been made that the trains operating to and from New York would start and end at Providence if New York, Connecticut and Rhode Island vote assistance to the New Haven and Massachusetts doesn't.

That probably is a little far-fetched. In the first place, many persons in New York, Connecticut and Rhode Island undoubtedly want to travel to and from Boston by train. Secondly, the ICC would be very unlikely to permit such a move.

But New York, Connecticut and Rhode Island definitely would not subsidize commuter service in Massachusetts, and that's where the great problem would arise.

Governor Volpe is in a difficult position where his efforts easily can be misconstrued. He wants to keep the trains running at least until he can work out some plan to substitute for the present service. The only way he can do that is to recommend public aid for a railroad whose management has come under heavy fire of criticism.

This is a highly explosive situation and one which is likely to be making headlines for some days to come.

Volpe Running GOP With Strong Hand

The unanimous election of former State Senator Philip K. Allen of Andover as the new chairman of the Republican State Committee demonstrated that Governor Volpe is running the affairs of his political party with a firm hand.

Whether Allen's election will result in greater harmony within the GOP and a strengthening of the party machinery, which Volpe desires to accomplish, remains to be seen.

The choice of Allen as the GOP State chairman actually is part of a big political gamble Volpe is taking in preparation for a bid next year for a seat in the U. S. Senate.

Ordinarily, a Governor picks one of his top campaign lieutenants to serve as head of his party's official State organization. Allen, however, was against Volpe at the Republican State Convention last June. He supported ex-Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., of Newton for the gubernatorial endorsement.

Yet, Volpe not only resisted opposition to Allen from the GOP legislative leaders on Beacon Hill but sent a personal letter to the members of

OUR READERS SAY

Parents And Safety

Editor, Newton Graphic:

"Is there anything more disgraceful than the shameful neglect shown to the safety of the school children of Newton?" This is the question posed by Mrs. Gookasian in her recent letter to the Newton Graphic.

Why is it, that we as parents are too lazy to shovel our own sidewalks? Why are we too lazy to walk with our children to school?

Why do we consistently ignore the pleas of school, health and safety authorities, by driving our children to school and thereby creating the most fantastic traffic safety hazards in the world. With this type of traffic missing, our children had the safest conditions of the whole school year, during the few days directly after the last big storm.

Why don't we as parents help the schools to get on with the job of educating our children? Our schools have a program and schedule which we as parents should assist, not hinder.

My children will be in school on all scheduled school days. Most parents should plan to do the same.

Let us as parents assist our educators in performing their job of helping our children.

John A. Twomey, 14 Westview Terrace,

Not Ill-informed

To the Editor:

I am afraid Dr. Stare has called the turn when he says I'm noisy.

But ill-informed? I think he means misinformed. My husband and I are planning a suit against the New York Times and Consumers Union for mis-informing us.

With part of the settlement we plan to guarantee ourselves a forum by buying our own PTA — and just to show we harbor no bad feelings, Dr. Stare has a standing invitation to address us whenever he has a moment's peace from the battle with the rest of the "ill-informed bigots."

We promise not to call him any names even if we don't agree with him.

Mrs. Mary F. O'Brien, 66 Prescott street, Newtonville, Mass.

Planning Crackdown On State Car Abuses

Able, hard-working Charles Gibbons, commissioner of administration and finance in Governor Volpe's cabinet, is about ready to crack down on widespread abuses in the use of state-owned automobiles.

Reforms planned by Gibbons will be aimed at officials and employees who have been using State cars to do errands, go to the movies, visit friends, drive the children to school and for other personal purposes.

A good many officials now riding around in chauffeur-driven state cars at public expense probably will lose both the cars and the chauffeurs as a result of a survey Gibbons has been conducting.

A former speaker of the House of Representatives and something of an expert on State government, Gibbons has the unique theory that state cars should be used only for state business. He intends to try to put his theory into operation.

Lee Loumos Says

The TV fight has just lost a loyal fan. I recently having had to revert to radio for the Patterson-Johnson fight, particularly after so many years of loyalty in watching so many bad or mediocre fights on television. If the fight moguls don't give us a little "frothing on the cake" by letting us see some good fights, how do they expect us to continue watching only the poorer ones?

The best solution for me is to patronize programs like "Sing Along With Mitch" which is receiving more and more favorable comment — particularly from owners of color TV sets. If you do not have a color TV, or haven't even seen a color telecast, why don't you let me show you what you're missing? Come in to the store anytime this week during RCA's Festival of Color or take advantage of my FREE HOME DEMONSTRATION offer. POLITICAL PROWL . . . During the month of March, three groups representing the N.H.S. Associates Council are participating in the Massachusetts Student Government Exchange Program. Many Massachusetts towns hold town meetings during the month, thus the N.H.S. student groups are able to see actual town meetings in the towns which they visit.

Last week, the first group, headed by Karen Secunda, Associates Council Secretary, visited Hudson, Mass. Later in the month, the two other N.H.S. groups will visit Grafton and Canton. Newton will receive visitors from these three schools during the first week in April.

For the first time in many years, NHS has a new decal. The Associates Council sponsored the designing and purchasing of the decal and has given each of the six houses a limited supply of decals for sale within the houses. Bob Johnson, Neil Grossman, Roy Reiss and Karen Stone were on the decal committee.

At recent meetings, the Council has discussed financial problems of the Newtonite and the Orange Book, A change in the Student Activities Ticket was suggested.

The Election Committee, a sub-committee of the Central Civics Committee is beginning work on Spring Elections. Present sophomores and juniors will be seeking junior and senior class and Associate Council positions. Only those students who will be seniors next fall are eligible for Associates Council offices.

WHEN SPRING COMES, GRADUATION IS NOT FAR AHEAD . . . During the week, seniors have been measured for caps and gowns . . . A senior countdown has begun, 54-53-52 . . . Class officers from both high schools have begun to discuss plans for the prom . . . The Senior Class Committee is planning Senior Night, to be held next Saturday evening. Groups of and individual seniors will perform for their classmates. The committee is now checking the scripts these groups plan to use.

Last Saturday, about two hundred juniors from both schools took the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Examination. Students receiving high scores on this test may qualify as semi-finalists in the Merit Competition. Many other students will receive letters of commendation.

Newton Girl Sets World's 440-Yd. Mark

A petite and pretty 17-year-old Auburndale miss astounded the sports world last week in Columbus, Ohio, when she lopped an amazing 14.7 seconds off the existing AAU women's half-mile record.

Miss Helen Shipley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Shipley, Jr. of 71 Vista ave., ran the gruelling 440-yard race in 2:21.6, demolishing the standing record of 2:36.3 set in 1959 by Grace Butcher and Pat Douthitt of Cleveland—both of whom finished far behind the flying Newtonite.

Miss Shipley, a tickled 120-pounder, was running her first race in organized competition. Representing the Liberty A.C. of Lexington, Miss Shipley ran her unbelievable race on a flat, 220-yard track in the 1961 Women's AAU Indoor Track and Field Championships. Her feat has been called "the greatest half-mile in AAU history."

A sparkling brunette with hazel eyes, she's a Dana Hall senior at Wellesley College.

Action Taken On 2 Apartment Block Proposals

Proceedings affecting two high-rise apartment developments in Newton were under way this week.

The Planning Board and Aldermanic Claims and Rules Committee held a public hearing Monday night at City Hall on a proposal for three 12-story apartment buildings to be erected on the Worcester Turnpike in Chestnut Hill, and there was no opposition.

Chestnut Hill Towers, Inc., and Salvatore P. Toscano, seek permission to change 17½ acres on Boylston St., near Moody, to Residence "F" under which high rise apartments would be permitted. Alderman Ernest G. Angevine recalled that the Planning Board had recommended such action in 1959.

A group of Newton Centre residents has begun proceedings in Middlesex Superior Court designed to block proposals for a multi-million dollar business and apartment development on the site of the old Mason School.

A bill in equity has been filed by six residents, led by Walter Feinberg, of 135 Ridge Ave., Newton Centre. The bill seeks to set aside the order of the Board of Aldermen which placed the site in Business "A" Zone from its previous unzoned category.

Meanwhile, no opposition appeared Monday at the hearing on the request of the Catholic Guild for the Blind for permission to increase the number of trainees from eight to 20 at the rehabilitation center, 770 Centre St., Newton.

Marine 1st Lt. D. T. Kiely, son of Mrs. Katherine T. Kiely of 37 Mayflower Rd., Newton, has completed carrier landing qualifications, while serving with Training Squadron Five aboard the anti-submarine warfare support aircraft carrier USS Anietam operating in the Gulf of Mexico.

MTA Seeks To Change Zoning

The MTA last Friday night petitioned the Newton Planning Board for a change of zoning which would permit the adaptation of the old Newton Centre railroad station building into a retail clothing store.

The MTA requested the change so that the Authority could lease the building at $6000 per year to the clothing store operator. MTA counsellor Sidney Weinberg told the board that no reasonable offers had been made for the sale of the building and that the lessee would spend about $10,000 improving the property. Opposition came from two residents of the area, Elliot McClellan of 29 Bragdon Ave. and Thomas Ford of 37 Chase St., who objected not to the change of zoning for the building but for a change of zoning on two abutting pieces of property which would necessarily be included in the proposed project.

Two Newton girls are members of the Freshman Honor Roll at Wheaton College in Norton. They are Abigail Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Collins of 9 Hillcrest Circle, Waban, and Frances P. Keyes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Keyes of 40 Puddingstone Lane, Newton Centre.

Pay Raise Issue Set To Heat Budget Meeting

"No-Fix" Tags Start On April 1

Practical jokers may have a grand time on Saturday, April 1, but it will be no joke to Newton traffic violators when police place into effect the "no fix" system to decide whether or not the motorist must go to court.

The new system was developed at a conference between Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, Police Chief Philip Purcell, and Police Capt. James W. Corcoran, head of the traffic division.

Under the system going into effect April 1, traffic tickets given violators will carry the words "Court" and "Warning." The issuing officer will check either one or

Cards Filed By Developers Of Apartment Plan

Stephen Hopkins, developer, and Harris Reynolds, attorney, for the Chestnut Hill Park Associates announced today that they have filed with City Clerk Monte Basbas a total of 2,331 signed post cards from individual homeowners in this city in acknowledgment to a letter sent to approximately 20,000 local homeowners by the Chestnut Hill Park Associates three weeks ago.

In this letter, the homeowners were asked to sign and return cards indicating whether or not they were in favor of the Chestnut Hill Park Associates' petition to build high-rise apartments on part of the Newton section of the present Commonwealth Country Club golf course.

Hopkins reported that of

Taxpayers Association Opposes Teachers Equal Pay Proposals

The Newton Taxpayers' Association today flatly opposed equal pay for men and women teachers.

President Bartlett Harwood, Jr., announced that the Association will urge a "no" vote on the referendum question concerning equal pay which will appear on the ballot for the municipal election in November. The decision was reached at a meeting of the association's directors.

Mr. Harwood stated that the "no" vote on the referendum would be urged by the Association because:

"The referendum would detract from the knowledgeable and responsible judgment of those elected to make decisions on school policy, because it would unduly restrict the exercise of that judgment for the future, and because it would prevent the development of reasonable flexible alternatives in establishing salary schedules."

The Association issued a statement which cited three "persuasive" reasons for the decision. These were:

"First, the School Committee is elected to decide questions of administrative policy for the schools and the directors believe the question of equal pay should be left to them. The Committee has full financial responsibility for the operation of the schools.

"It has available much more complete information than most voters on the actual state of the teacher market, the condition of the city's

Newton Postmark Battle Resumes

Congressman Laurence Curtis and Senator Leverett Saltonstall have reopened a fight to try to restore Newton's postmark. Both Curtis and Saltonstall this week protested against the system under which all Newton mail is hauled to the South Postal Station in Boston to be processed and postmarked. They said they intend to take up the matter with Postmaster Ephraim Martin in an attempt to return to the old method of handling Newton mail.

7 Newtonites Win National Fellowships

Eight Newton residents are included in the list of the nation's outstanding college graduates who have been awarded Graduate Fellowships by the National Science Foundation.

Announcement of the awards was made by Cong. Laurence Curtis (D-Mass.) who said the successful awardees were chosen from 4,875 applicants from all parts of the United States and its territories.

Newton winners were:

Colonel Kelleher entered the Army in 1944 and went overseas in April of 1960 on a duty tour. He is a graduate of Boston College.

Some Aldermen Ready To Wield Axe On Mayor Approved Wage Schedules

A proposed new salary schedule for all city employees except those in the school department, which calls for pay increases this year and next, looms as the issue which will be the subject of the liveliest argument at the annual budget meeting of the Board of Aldermen next Monday night.

While Mayor Donald L. Gibbs has wholeheartedly endorsed the new wage scales and the pay hikes they involve, some members of the Board of Aldermen reportedly are planning a move to trim down the increases. This is expected to touch off a hot debate.

The salary schedule for municipal workers contained in the Mayor's budget was recommended by Charles M. Evans and Associates, consultants in public administration and finance, following an extensive survey made for the city. The suggested raises were worked out scientifically.

The study took into consideration the salaries paid for similar positions not only in other cities comparable to Newton but also in private industry.

Under the so-called Evans report, which the Mayor approved and submitted to the Aldermanic Board, the municipal workers would get one pay boost on May 1 of this year and a second one in 1962. The increases would cost the city $238,968 this year, when they would be in effect for eight months.

Police and firemen would get a $300 raise this year and a $200 hike next year.

The increases recommended for other city employees vary according to their jobs and their classifications. For most workers the raises would range from $120 to $150 this year and would average about $120 next year.

A number of Aldermen, The Graphic learned, are unwilling to vote the full amount of the raises advocated in the Evans report.

Approve One of Two Apartment Projects

Clearance for construction of three 12-story apartment buildings by Chestnut Hill Towers, Inc., on the Worcester Turnpike in Chestnut Hill was granted by the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night.

The site includes 12,444 acres which recently was changed to Residence and live acres in Residence C. Being held by the Claims and Rules Committee was a request to use a portion of the land for a parking space for employees of Vallee's Steak House nearby.

At the same time the Aldermen denied the request of Charles C. Nardone for a change in zone to permit construction of four garden-type apartment houses containing 32 dwelling units on the Turnpike in Newton Centre.

Also denied was the request of a society for permission to

Boy's 2 Finger Tips Blown Off

Fourteen-year-old Paul Corcoran lost the tips of two fingers on his left hand Monday in the explosion of a dynamite cap at his home, 31 Auburn St., West Newton. He told police he was scraping the powder from a third percussion cap when it blew up.

Police confiscated about 20 additional caps the boy said he found on the beams in the cellar, apparently left by a previous occupant.

Merrill Urges Replacement Of H. Mann School

Alderman Carleton P. Merrill urged today that the Newton School Committee request the Board of Aldermen to replace the Horace Mann School, the oldest school in the city.

He cited a 1957 report of the School Department which urged replacement for this structure which the report described as "obsolete and architecturally it is a depressant on real-estate values. It should be abandoned as part of city planning for urban renewal."

Mr. Merrill stated that the fact that safety devices have been installed in the Horace Mann School or that the State Fire Marshal's office has certified this school as being safe "should not mislead us into a feeling of security."

Merrill continued: "I am certain that if the citizens of Newton should visit this edu-

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Experts and Voters Differ In Viewing Volpe's Battles

Quite often the political experts and the voters don't see things the same way. That appears to be the case right now with Governor Volpe.

Volpe in the opinion of veteran political observers, is fighting on too many fronts at the same time, is saying too much about too many things and is waging too many battles he can't win.

Spot checks with the rank and file of voters, however, revealed that most of them feel he is trying to meet the problems confronting the State. There is no evidence that he has lost any of his popularity since assuming office.

Whether he will retain his popularity if he loses as many fights in the coming weeks as Beacon Hill observers believe he will is something only time will determine. Up to now the attitude of the people seems to be that at least he is trying to do something even if he doesn't succeed.

Not only do seasonal politicians question the strategy behind some of the Governor's moves, but they also shake their heads over the timing of them.

Already faced with almost certain defeat of his proposal for aiding the New Haven Railroad and with probable rejection of his bill for the reorganization of the MTA, the Governor now is mapping two other fights he will be unable to win.

Within the next few weeks he will send messages to the Legislature for the reorganization of both the Metropolitan District Commission and the State Public Works Department. Both are slated to get the heave-ho in the House of Representatives.

Those defeats will make Volpe early next year for the quite an impression upon the Republican nomination for Governor.

Those are two of the likely results of the announcement by former UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge that he will not be a candidate for any public office in '62.

Just as was the case with ex-Governor Furcolo, the political ambition of Volpe has been to sit in the Senate, not in the Governor's chair. That desire doubtless has increased as a result of his recent setbacks.

Alderman Merrill charged that Newton was falling behind in its program "of replacement of and rehabilitation to our older school buildings."

He said the Horace Mann PTA is not alone in asking that positive action be taken.

"Certainly the parents of children attending the Stearns School, the Burr School, the old Hyde School, the Bigelow Jr. High School and the Newton North High School have every right to expect to see the beginning of a sound and realistic program of rehabilitation initiated by the School Committee and by the Board of Aldermen," Mr. Merrill stated.

Political Highlights

sult of the trials and tribulations Volpe has encountered during his three months in office.

Persons close to Volpe have known for some time that he wanted to serve just one term in the Governorship and then set his sights upon the upper chamber of Congress.

The one figure who might have derailed Volpe from that political course was Lodge who was considered to have the first claim to the GOP Senate nomination in 1962 if he wanted it.

The fact that Lodge doesn't want it not only opens the way for Volpe to run for the Senate but is good news for the Democrats and will start GOP leaders thinking about the makeup of their State ticket for the 1962 campaign.

Lodge unquestionably would have been an extremely potent contender for the Senate if he had chosen to return to the political wars next year.

Political pundits still argue among themselves on whether Lodge was as much an asset to Richard M. Nixon in last fall's Presidential campaign as it was expected he would be. Some of them insist vigorously he was not.

The fact remains, however, that Lodge would be the strongest candidate the Republicans could put up to head their State ticket in Massachusetts. The first to agree in that appraisal would be the Democratic politicians who have a great respect for Lodge.

With Lodge out of the political picture at least as far as 1962 is concerned, Volpe presumably will begin mapping his plans to run for the Senate as soon as he gets out from under the gigantic problems now engulfing him.

It is conceivable that circumstances might develop which would virtually force Volpe to stand for reelection to the Governorship, but that is highly improbable.

Whether Volpe would encounter any opposition within his own party for the Senate nomination is uncertain. It is possible that he might.

One Republican who may have to be reckoned with in 1962 as a candidate for either the Senate or the Governorship is Congressman Lawrence Curtis.

Curtis has won five consecutive elections from a congressional district which is the largest in the Commonwealth and is now basically Democratic. He has carried areas where other Republican candidates have been swamped.

A member of the important House Foreign Affairs Committee, Curtis would prefer to stay in Congress. Reports have been circulated in political quarters, however, that Curtis may be Gerrymandered out of office by the establishment of new congressional districts.

Should that happen, it is reasonable to assume that Curtis will run for some high office next year. He might stand for either the Governorship or the Senate, but after serving 10 years in Congress it would be natural if he desired to wind up his public career in the U. S. Senate.

If Curtis' district is not broken up or if a stalemate develops so that all congressional candidates are forced to run in the state-at-large, he undoubtedly would seek to remain in Congress.

Whether Curtis' district is liquidated will depend to some degree on Volpe himself who has the power to veto any congressional redistricting bill passed by the Legislature. The Governor could simply matters for both himself and Curtis by insisting that the latter's district is not wiped out when the State is divided into new congressional sectors.

Meanwhile, speculation is sure to develop as to who will be the Republican candidate for Governor when Volpe steps out next year to run for the Senate and if an opportunity still exists for Curtis to stand for another term in Congress.

Former Governor's Councilor Christian A. Herter, Jr., son of the ex-Governor and former Secretary of State, is one definite possibility. Herter, who made the best showing of any member of the GOP State ticket in 1958, is thinking in terms of attempting a political comeback next year but has not yet picked out the office for which he will bid.

Congressman Silvio O. Conte of Pittsfield, one of the bright young prospects in the GOP and probably now the outstanding Republican in western Massachusetts, also is certain to figure in the consideration, although Conte may be reluctant to terminate his career on Washington's Capitol Hill.

George Lodge, son of Henry Cabot Lodge, probably will be mentioned in the inevitable discussions of the Republican party's political timber. The younger Lodge, however, has never run for public office, and if he winds up on the GOP State ticket, it almost surely will be as a candidate for one of the lower offices.

Meanwhile, Governor Volpe is confronted with too many pressing problems of immediate urgency to give more than a passing thought to the 1962 election.

Unless the members of the Legislature receive some definite assurance that the New Haven Railroad will be placed under new management, there seems little likelihood that the Outstanding — Alvan R. Corkin, of Newton, who has been selected as one of the "Ten Outstanding Young Men of Greater Boston" by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The ten outstanding young men will be honored at a banquet of the Junior Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday, March 28 at John Hancock Hall.

Weeks Jr. High Seminar To Be Held Wednesday

The teaching of foreign languages at Weeks Junior High School in Newton Centre will be discussed by parents and teachers on Wednesday, March 29 at 8 p. m. Seminars arranged by the P.T.A. under the direction of Mrs. Malcolm Knowles, P.T.A. program chairman are designed to provide parents with information about subject matter and teaching methods.

Members of the Foreign Language Department at Weeks who will lead the discussions are: French, Miss Leone M. Chandoneet and Mrs. Marlene Yesley; German and Latin, Richard Adams.

The Foreign Language Seminar is the fourth and concluding discussion workshop held in March at Weeks Junior High School. Earlier meetings were devoted to Mathematics, Science and English-Social Studies.

Governor's bill to grant public aid to that road will be enacted.

Volpe has explained that his objective is to protect the economy of Massachusetts and save jobs, not to bail out the New Haven management, but sentiment against his measure is extremely strong on Beacon Hill.

A fortnight ago, it appeared that Volpe had a good chance of winning his fight for the reorganization of the MTA. Now that prospect appears to have dwindled under the strong objection which has developed.

Democratic legislators point out that when ex-Governor Herter assumed office in 1952 he put through a bill abolishing a five-member MTA Board of Trustees and substituting a three-member board in its place. Now Volpe wants to scrap the three-member board and return to the old five-member board.

Most surprising of all was the violent opposition to the proposed ouster of tough-talking MTA General Manager Thomas J. McLernon.

As Senate President John F. Powers put it, McLernon is tactless, undiplomatic, a bull in a china shop and talks too much, but a lot of people think he is trying to do a good job and want him given a chance to show what he can do.

Among those who have taken up the cudgels for McLernon are the influential Powers himself and Boston's Mayor Collins who were opponents in the Hub's 1959 mayoralty campaign.

Leads Business Group On Tour Of the Far East

Mr. Gerhard R. Hassler, of West Newton, left last week for Hong Kong to meet a party of fourteen Massachusetts businessmen and their wives who are now on an extended tour of the Far East.

Mr. Hassler, who is manager of Newton Travel Service, 21 Lincoln Street, Newton Highlands, is personally escorting the party to the major Oriental attractions in Hong Kong and on a side trip to Macao on the Chinese mainland. Next week he will continue with the group to Japan where they will visit Tokyo, Nikko, Kyoto, Miyashita and Nara.

This marks Mr. Hassler's sixth visit to Hong Kong, with which he is as familiar as he is with most of the world capitals.

Mr. Hassler will return to the United States with the group early in April and will resume his duties at Newton Travel Service. He and Mrs. Hassler make their home on Waltham Street in West Newton with their two young sons, Gary, 2, and Richard 2 months. Gary is already well on his way to becoming a world traveler like his father since he flew to Switzerland in October for a visit with his grandparents.

Cub Pack #18 Blue and Gold Annual Dinner

Cub Scout Pack 18 recently enjoyed its annual Blue and Gold dinner in Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church in Newton Centre. The boys and their dads dined at six tables, each cleverly decorated by the mothers. At the head table were seated the following: Toastmaster Dana Mallins, Rev. Harold Malmberg and his son Eric, Packmaster William Waters, Richard Herman, Ted duMoulin and his son Peter, Roger Le Fournier, the Assistant district Commissioner, and Explorer Scouts Hank Bergson, Wight Manning, Gary Hawkins and Joel Peterson.

The invocation was given by Rev. Malmberg, pastor of the church. A program of folk songs was presented by Richard Herman, Director of the International Children's Camp, Winso, N.H. Accompanying himself on a five-string guitar, Mr. Herman sang "Titanic," a Norwegian Song, and an Indian Song. Then with a banjo he sang "Charley and the MTA" and closed with an African Song.

The second half of the program showed the boys' interest in the Civil War this centennial year. The four explorer scouts, dressed in actual Civil War uniforms of the Union Army, exhibited their collection of guns, tools and equipment used in the Civil War. Firearms were also shown from the Revolutionary and Spanish American Wars. These guns have all been kept in perfect condition and each year the explorer scouts fire them in contests at Fort Ticpenderoga. After the demonstration, each cub scout was presented with an exact replica of a "Minnie Ball," a type of bullet used during the Civil War.

The evening closed with a show of appreciation for the mothers who had prepared and served the dinner and for Assistant Cubmaster Richard Ginsberg, who as dinner chairman arranged this fine example of parent-son association.

Seals are among the most intelligent of all animals — monkeys and men excepted.

Leigh Packer Tells Carr PTA Of Civil Defense

Newton's Civil Defense Director, Leigh Packer, addressed parents and friends at a special PTA meeting Monday evening, March 13, at the Carr School on how to prepare for and protect ourselves from fallout.

Pres. Robert Burkhardt introduced Mr. Packer. He formerly was an active official of the Norumbega Council of Boy Scouts, headed a Red Cross disaster committee for three years, and has now the task of maintaining this vital office of communication, assistance and information to the public. It is done principally with the help of volunteers, many of them only part time.

Our government realizes how serious is the necessity for protection and has built shelters for operating the government entirely from underground headquarters in the event of disaster, Mr. Packer said. Civil Defense maintains 24-hour communication through the country, capable of instantaneous country-wide alert.

PTA Program Committee were Mrs. William Wise and Mrs. Gershen Rosenblum. Parents and friends attending had many questions following this talk and accom-

"It should be noted that the same position on this point was taken by the Association with respect to the duties of the Mayor and Aldermen concerning wages paid to firemen at the time of last year's referendum.

The statement continued: "Second, there is no general provision allowing Massachusetts cities and towns to rescind policies adopted by referendum. Therefore the adoption of the equal pay policy by referendum would prevent the Newton School Committee from inserting, except by subterfuge, any differential in employing men as compared with women teachers.

"Thus neither initial availability nor expectable period of employment nor imbalance of personnel as between the sexes could be taken into account by any future salary schedule as such.

This would be the first step in a plan by the Mayor to replace worn-out equipment. He intends to ask $37,000 for the same purpose and another $37,000 in 1962.

Gibbs declares that the expenditure of this money is essential if the city's forces are to continue to do a good job in coping with snow storms.

He says the city has seven heavy-duty snow-fighters, the two newest of which were purchased in 1959 and are 11 years old. Of the other five, one was bought in 1949, one in 1948, two in 1947 and one in 1945.

The Mayor reports that they have reached the stage where they break down periodically during storms and that this hampers the snow-plowing operations.

Cuts may be made next Monday night by the Aldermanic Board in the budgets of the police, fire and library departments. The Mayor was unable to trim down the budgets of those departments, as he did in the case of other branches of the city government, because of an accident in which he lost part of a thumb and finger while operating a snow-blower at his summer home in Peterboro, N. H.

The $23,533,028 budget, which is awaiting the action of the Aldermen next Monday night, is the biggest in the city's history. It is approximately $2,312,000 larger than the $21,221,744 budget adopted a year ago.

The Social committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club met, last week, at the home of Mrs. Stanford Blitzer at 10 St. Mary's St., Newton Lower Falls, for a tea hour and to discuss final plans for the spring formal dance to be held at their clubhouse on April 8th.

Of the $23,533,028, $9,132,529 is for the school department and $964,810 is for the water department which is self-supporting.

The school budget, which was submitted to the Aldermanic Board by the Mayor exactly as he received it from the School Committee, is about $1,200,000 greater, than last year. Neither the Mayor nor the Aldermen can legally cut school expenditures.

A MESSAGE FROM OUR CHAPTER CHAIRMAN

This year, as the United States commemorates the Centennial of the Civil War, it is important to remember also Clara Barton, the founder of the American Red Cross. During that national period of chaos, Miss Barton was allowed to cross between the warring camps to administer to the sick and wounded. To ensure her safety, she used the pass words — acceptable and recognized by both sides — "over the bridges and within the lines".

During the past one hundred years, Red Cross workers have gone throughout the world — during wars, national emergencies, local disasters — to alleviate suffering.

This great humanitarian movement, although world wide today, is evident right here in our own community. The occasions are not always dramatic nor do they always receive newspaper headlines. Yet, it is a source of consolation to realize that when the need arises, your Red Cross is ready to help.

With your continued support, the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross will continue to "cross the bridges and enter within the lines" — to dispense help wherever and to whomsoever it is needed.

FREDERICK G. FISHER, JR.
Chapter Chairman

A MESSAGE FROM OUR EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Traditionally, March is hailed as Red Cross month throughout the land.

It is appropriate, at this time, that we at the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross review our activities and objectives.

The various services listed on the left are a good indication of the present activities of the Newton Chapter. They are not, however, "accomplishments" because that word implies something completed. Rather, these services are continuing ones — they are part of the daily activities of the Newton Red Cross and are in operation throughout the year.

The continuation and improvement of these services are the main objectives of the Newton Chapter for we have seen what these programs mean to Newtonians — both at home and abroad. We realize, as we know you do, that these programs embody the basic concept of the American Red Cross — "people helping people".

JOHN A. MCCARTY
Executive Director

OUR UNITED FUND ASSOCIATION

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross is proud, pleased and grateful for its association with the United Fund.

We are proud of the work of our fellow Newton residents in the United Fund Campaigns each year.

We are pleased that the United Fund in Newton has chosen our Chapter House for its headquarters.

We are grateful to the residents of Newton for their support of the United Fund and the realization that the Fund's past success will enable our local Chapter House to continue its service to the community.

There is no effective alternative to the United Fund way of giving which combines the needs of several services.

The Newton Red Cross will continue to support the United Fund in every way possible so that we may more effectively perform our main purpose — helping the people of our community.

The program of comedy, folk songs, stories, pantomime and puppets will start at 2:30 p.m. Don Coyote, the loved children's entertainer with MC the show. Among the other stars on the program are Esakawa, the Indian corn-dancer; Roland Rock, the 12-foot tall "friendly giant" puppet and Herbert Herbert, the children's favorite clown. As always, there will be lots of prizes and audience participation in games and an old-fashioned Pie-Eating Contest. There will be a full-length puppet play, Tom-Tit-Tot.

Climax of the Crazy Day in Wonderland show is the famous Mad Hat Contest, in which the children of the audience compete, wearing their own "do it yourself" hats, their own creations of balloons, chicken feathers, toothpicks or tin cans. . . the wilder the better. The six best made hats win prizes. The Grand Winner also receives the honor of joining the Crazy Day cast in the Silly Waltz that ends the show.

Women's Council To Hear Of Iron Curtain Journey

Mrs. Anton R. Fried, of 15 Bonad Road, West Newton, will give an illustrated talk on "A Glimpse Behind the Iron Curtain" at the Women's Council of the Second Church in Newton on Wednesday, April 12, at two o'clock. Mrs. Fried, a well-known Newton physician, took a planned tour to Russia last summer with a group of six people and covered over 3,000 miles. Her visit to Russia came soon after the shooting down of our second plane, but Moscow gave instructions that these "Westerners" were to be treated cordially and allowed to go about as they pleased. Mrs. Fried will tell what she saw and what her impressions were of a vast country of 250 million people.

This program, under the direction of Mrs. Clifford James, will follow the 10 o'clock morning work groups, the children's luncheon at 12:30, and the regular luncheon at 1 o'clock in charge of Mrs. Thomas S. Hayden and Mrs. H. Dowell Jones. Mrs. Albert Burgess, president of the Women's Council, will preside at the business meeting preceding the program.

Employees Of Market Earn UF Citation

Star Market Company employees, including those employed by Star's Newtonville store, were singled out for the top 1961 United Fund award this year for their outstanding average contributions.

To qualify for this honor, Star Market employees reached a dollar goal equivalent to having 90 per cent of the total employees contribute one hour's pay per month. LWV Lists 8 Discussions On Economic Diplomacy

Economic diplomacy at home and abroad will be studied by the League of Women Voters of Newton at the next series of discussion meetings to be held during the week of March 28.

Mrs. Henry Gesmer, chairman of the Foreign Policy committee, believes the United States arrived at an important political decision when it chose to give economic aid to underdeveloped nations in the belief that social and political development would follow.

There is a growing awareness that the domestic economy will become more dependent on the international economy, she said. What are the strengths of the United States economy? Should we be concerned with the outflow of gold? Should private American investment be encouraged in the developing countries?

These are some of the questions to be discussed at the unit meetings which will be scheduled as follows:

Camp Fire Girls Present Flags To Highlight Jubilee Week Here

One of the colorful highlights of the observance in Newton of Camp Fire Girls Jubilee Week was the presentation of two flags to the historic Smith House, at ceremonies held Saturday afternoon at the Hall of Flags at City Hall.

The presentation speech was made by Lisa Loeb with two young Camp Fire girls, Wendy Radin and Rhonda Bornstein, handing over the flags to Walter J. Kröske, chairman of the Smith House Association.

One of the flags was the Old Glory of 1832, the year in which the Rev. Smith wrote the immortal patriotic hymn "America" while residing in the house which now bears his name, and which is being preserved as a memorial to him.

The other flag was a new 50-star banner.

Alderman Charles E. Holly represented Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and read the Mayor's official proclamation designating March 17 through today, the 23rd, as "Camp Fire Girls Jubilee Week" in Newton.

Newton thus joined cities and towns throughout the United States in the national observance of the 50th anniversary of the Camp Fire Girls.

Clergymen who participated included, the Rev. Edward W. Beuceler, of Corpus Christi Church, Auburndale, who gave the invocation; the Rev. Harold A. Malmberg, of the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre, who gave the spiritual message; and Rabbi Murray

I. Rothman, Temple Shalom of Newton, who gave the benediction.

Also taking part in the program were, Susan Rubin, who gave the Pledge of Allegiance; Karen Spillman, Marlene Blacker, and Dorothy Segal, who lighted the Camp Fire candles; Judith Lazar, Suzanne DeLollis and Roberta Sahl, who extinguished the Candles, and the Camp Fire Chorus of Auburndale, who sang, "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name." Music was in charge of Mrs. Leonard Martin.

The fifth grade Camp Fire Girls, of Waban, in charge of Mrs. F. N. Flaschner and Mrs. J. Aliman, leaders, acted as ushers at the ceremony which was attended by a capacity audience.

Savings Bonds To Winners Of Essay Contest

An essay contest open to all (students in all) public junior and senior high schools in Newton is being sponsored by the Dr. Joshua Loth Leibman lodge and chapter of B'nai B'rith. The essay, of from 500 to 1000 words, will be titled, "How Can We Make Democracy Live?" The essays must be submitted by April 7th.

Savings Bonds will be awarded to six winners, as well as honorable mention prizes of theatre and Red Sox ball game tickets.

Superintendent of Schools Brown, Assistant Superintendent Cook, and members of the faculties have expressed their enthusiasm for the project and have pledged their cooperation in screening the initial entries.

Among those who will participate in the final judging are Mrs. Robert Wadman, Dean of Women, Newton Junior College; Mr. Edward Clarke, Principal, Bowen School; Mrs. Genevieve Onley, member of the Newton School Committee; Rev. Frank Welskel, Minister of the First Church in Newton; Dr. Martin Goldstein, Educational Director, Temple Emanuel; and Mr. Leon Kowal, Attorney and President of the Anti-Defamation League, New England Region.

There will be eighteen judges in all, three for each grade, and the final awards, a United States Savings Bond to the writer of the winning essay in each of the six competing grades, will be presented on May 16 at Temple Emanuel in Newton. There will also be Honorable Mention Awards, consisting of tickets to "Exodus" and the Red Sox baseball games.

Help With Plans For Jensen Fete

A number of Newton residents are assisting with plans for a big homecoming dinner to be tendered Red Sox slugger Jackie Jensen at Blinstrub's Village in South Boston on April 10.

Mayor Blasts Aldermen For Blocking New Salary Plan Proposed by Expert

DR. MARIE FARRELL

Newton Woman Candidate For Nursing Honor

Nursing's highest office in the United States may shortly be attained by a Newtonville resident and Boston University Dean.

Dr. Marie Farrell of 96 Washington Road, Newtonville, who has been Dean of the Boston University School of Nursing since 1957, is one of two candidates for President of the National League for Nursing, now headed by Mrs. Lucille Petry Leone, Chief Nurse Officer, U.S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare, who is a candidate for re-election to the two year post.

The National League for Nursing is a nationwide meeting ground where nurses and the people they serve, including representatives of nursing Mayor Donald L. Gibbs today blasted the action of a majority of the members of the Board of Aldermen in rejecting proposed new salary schedules for municipal employees which had been recommended by an expert management consultant after a scientific survey which cost the city $6000.

Gibbs charged that the Aldermen had done "an extremely poor job" and declared they "have emasculated the whole program." He emphasized his disappointment at the refusal of the Aldermen to accept the recommendations by Charles M. Evans & Associates, consultants in public administration and finance.

He said the pay schedules were scientifically worked out by an expert management consultant and "would have been good for the city."

"It is not a job evaluation as the Aldermen have done it," declared the angry Gibbs. "They have evaluated personalities and not the jobs."

He said that the saving accomplished by the Aldermen in turning down the Evans Report was comparatively minor. In some instances, the Mayor revealed, the Aldermen granted raises in excess of those proposed in the Evans Report.

Aldermen Earle D. Wood and William H. Prentice led the fight Monday night which resulted in the rejection of

Bradley Says Colleagues Disregard Public Safety

Alderman Joseph G. Bradley today accused a majority of his colleagues on the Aldermanic Board of a "disregard for the protection and well-being of the people of Newton."

He levelled his charge after he had cast the lone vote against the passage of a city budget as amended by the Aldermen.

Bradley explained that his vote was intended as a protest against what he termed "irresponsible actions by a majority of my colleagues."

He pointed out that a report recommending the establishment of new salary schedules, made by experts and for which the city paid $6000, was scrapped by the Finance Committee which produced a salary scale of its own.

Bradley also blasted the Aldermanic Board for slashing the funds requested by Mayor Gibbs for new snow-fighting equipment and for trimming down the automotive allowance for the police department.

"As an elected official responsible for my actions to the citizens of Newton, I feel it is my duty to explain my action in voting against the budget as amended by the Board of Aldermen," Bradley asserted.

"Uppermost in the minds of all should be the safety and well-being of the residents of our city. A majority of the Board of Aldermen by their

IT DIDN'T GET AWAY—Mrs. A. Elliot Thompson of Newton Centre, proudly displays her world record catch of Mako shark caught in Talaxa, Peru.

Newton Woman Angler Breaks World Record With Peruvian Shark

The tough but delicate art of catching and maneuvering the big game fish from their ocean habitats to dry land and a pose before a camera is not the domain of the human male exclusively, as was attested to recently by Mrs. Elliot Thompson, 8 Littlefield Road, Newton Centre.

Mrs. Thompson, an expert angler for big game fish, broke the world's record with a 640-pound Mako shark caught in Peru.

The catch was made after a 42-minute battle with the finny giant at the famed Cabo Blanco fishing grounds, Talaxa, Peru, where Mrs. Thompson was vacationing with her husband.

The previous world's record was 553 pounds, established in 1952. Mrs. Thompson made the record catch with a 24-thread linen line. She also has caught many other large game fish including a Blue and White Marlin, which she landed at Cat Cay, Bahamas, West Indies.

Budget Is Up By $1,644,000

The record 1961 budget approved Monday night by the Newton Board of Aldermen represented an increase of $1,644,000 over the 1960 budget.

Family Relocation Agency To Aid Toll Road Victims

The Newton Community Council has agreed to establish a Family Relocation Committee to help determine what services and assistance will be needed by families who will be displaced by the toll road extension.

This committee, which will also help coordinate the existing services in Newton so that when problems do arise, help will be available as quickly as possible.

Anticipating that a number of families in these homes may need help of one kind or another the Community Council is making plans to facilitate the solution of these problems.

The Newton Community Council office will attempt to keep informed about developments and to assist families where they can. This help is not a substitute

Apartment Housing Plans Continue To Be Firmly Opposed

Firm and continued opposition is evidenced in this city against any changes in zoning to permit apartment houses to be erected on land of the Commonwealth Country Club.

Added to the nearly two thousand residents who signed petitions in opposition, other local citizens continue to press objections which were aired at public hearings before the Claims and Rules Committee recently, when more than 800 people crowded City Hall to voice objections.

Other determined objectors have taken to the press to place front page advertisements in Boston newspapers and in the local Newton press. One group, comprising twenty-

Community Chest And Council In Meeting Probe Local Conditions

Dr. Donald E. Bowen is the new president of the Newton Community Chest and Newton Community Council. He was elected at the combined annual meeting of these two organizations on March 23, held at the Newton YMCA. Vice presidents also elected were George M. Shannon and Mrs. Genevieve R. Onley. George L. White and Norman H. S. Vincent were re-elected treasurer and assistant treasurer respectively.

"Housing in a Changing Suburb" was the topic presented by a panel headed by Mrs. Irene K. Thresher and included Charles E. Downe, city planning consultant; Lorenz F. Muther Jr., executive director, Newton Taxpayers Association, and Dr. Paul Deats Jr., on the faculty of the Boston University School of Theology and a resident of West Newton.

Newton was described by Mrs. Thresher in her introduction as a city of single family homes with good schools. She stated that our older people, however, are finding it difficult to find suitable places to live, which they can both afford and are able to maintain. The Housing Authority, headed by William Carmen, is planning to provide approximately 100 low-rent apartments for the elderly which will help meet some of the need.

Boys' Club Fund Drive Kick-Off Next Tuesday; $40,000 Total Is Goal

The fund-raising campaign for $40,000 to renovate and provide needed facilities and adequate quarters for the Newton Boys Club will kick-off at a dinner meeting of the board of directors to be held next Tuesday evening, April 4, at Vallee's Steak House in Chestnut Hill.

Norman E. MacNeil, first vice president of the Boys Club, is chairman of the drive. He is vice president and treasurer of the Ark-Les Switch Corporation in Watertown.

In a statement this week he announced that he feels that the generous people of Newton, also those in industry and commerce in the community, can and will gladly accept the responsibility of this campaign and will participate through contributions, or a three-year pledge, to the immediate need for larger quarters.

Increased membership at the Boys Club makes it imperative that larger quarters and more expanded facilities be secured.

The new building will consist of a large gymnasium, two game rooms, and separate quarters for the arts and crafts program. A kitchen is planned to provide adequate facilities for the functions of the Mothers' Club. The new home of the Boys Club will handle a capacity of 1200 boys.

If the capital fund drive meets the expectations of the committee, work on the enlarged quarters can be completed before February 1st, 1962.

Rep. Heaney Is Helpful In New Highway Name

Rep. Arthur G. Heaney, of Newton, has been instrumental in having a prominent section of the State Highway System named in honor of the Mass. State Guard Veterans Association.

House Bill 1825, sponsored by him and State Commander Edmund Lefevre, enacted and signed into law, will designate a newly built section of highway to Cape Cod as the Mass. State Guard Veterans Highway.

This is a stretch of about eight miles of new Route 28, now known as Route 25, in the Middleboro area.

Gibbs' Pay Hike Plans Also Pared

Members of the Board of Aldermen at a five-hour session which lasted until early Tuesday morning slashed $425,413 from the budget submitted by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs. Pay raises recommended by the Mayor for municipal employees were trimmed down by the economy-minded city fathers after a series of debates.

Police and firefighters will get a $200-a-year wage hike instead of the $300 proposed for them in a survey report which the Mayor approved and submitted to the Aldermanic Board. Other municipal workers for the most part will get a 4 per cent increase instead of the 8 per cent called for in the report.

Aldermen Joseph G. Bradley and Melvin J. Dangel alternately offered motions to try to get larger pay raises for the city workers, but every motion they presented was voted down, and the recommendations of the Aldermanic Finance Committee were upheld.

The budget cuts voted by the Aldermen represent a saving of slightly more than $150 on the tax rate. However, it appears virtually certain the rate will rise over last year's figure because of increased spending, especially in the school department. Exactly how much the increase in the rate will be is not yet known.

Freedman Slaps At Aldermen

School Committee Chairman Haskell C. Freedman told the GRAPHIC today that he believed the Board of Aldermen acted illegally in refusing to lift its restriction on allowances for out-of-state travel.

At its meeting Monday night, the Aldermanic Board voted 12 to 8 to continue the restrictions imposed two years ago, which resulted in a suit brought by 10 taxpayers against the Aldermen in Superior Court. It concerned an item of $1100 spent by school officials for travel to California to attend a convention.

The Superior Court ordered the City of Newton to appropriate the money, plus 25 per cent penalty, but the Aldermen carried the case to the Supreme Court. It will be heard by the full bench which begins its Spring session the first week of April.

"In my opinion the Board of Aldermen was in error in its action," Chairman Freedman said. "The Aldermen do not have the power to place that restriction on the Board of Aldermen."

OPEN LETTER

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, and Members of the Board of Aldermen
Newton City Hall
Newton, Massachusetts
Gentlemen:

Newton, Mass.
March 29, 1961

On February 13, 1961, over 1900 citizens of Newton informed you by written notice of their opposition to the request that the Newton portion of the Commonwealth Country Club be rezoned to allow apartment houses. They did so with the conviction that such a change in zoning would be detrimental to the long term good of "The Garden City" of Newton.

They are disturbed that until now the request for zoning change has not been voted against. They wonder why the delay on the part of their elected representatives, when the concerned citizenry has already spoken. They watch with concern and the closest scrutiny all developments in this matter.

It's Inspection Time For Autos; Get That Sticker

It's that time of year again, April hovering on the next calendar page; and Registrar Clement A. Riley reminding all Bay State motorists of the upcoming car inspection date, and the obligation of acquiring a new windshield sticker.

Come Monday, May 1st, and the new red sticker must be seen on all windshields of cars registered and operated in this state, or the owners face the consequences, a summons into court and a fine.

523 car owners received May Day greetings last year, made court appearances and paid fines for not complying with the motor vehicle inspection law. The wise motorist gets to the nearest inspection station—early.

C of C Endorses High Rise Apartment Group At Commonwealth Club

The Newton Chamber of Commerce today endorsed with certain restrictions the announced plans of the Chestnut Hill Park Associates to construct multi-million dollar luxury apartments at the easterly end of the Commonwealth Country Club.

The recommendation, signed by Grenfell A. Swim, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was sent to Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, the Board of Aldermen and the Planning Board.

When originally announced by the Chestnut Hill Park Associates, the plans called for construction of $12-$15 million apartments containing 856 one and two-bedroom suites. Rentals would range from $175 to $225. There would be a nine-hole golf course, clubhouse, swimming pool, parking and landscaping on the premises.

Specifically, the Chamber in its recommendation favored the rezoning of 38.7 acres to Residence F.

Mr. Swim, in his letter to City officials, said the recommendation was voted by the Board of Directors on March 21, with two members abstaining.

He stated the Chamber's Business Planning and Development Committee favored the construction as follows:

"It is the unanimous recommendation of the Business Planning and Development Committee that the Board of Directors endorse the change in zone of 38.7 acres of Newton land at the easterly end of the Commonwealth Country Club from Residence B and Private Residence to Residence F with the following restrictions:

"1. A decrease in the population possibility proposed by the Chestnut Hill Park Associates in terms of living units to approximately 500.

"2. The location on the site for such high rise apartment buildings should be restricted to those areas which have the lowest elevations on the site.

"3. Parking space for at least 50 per cent of the space required by Residence F zoning should be provided either below ground or concealed."

The Chamber's Business Planning and Development Committee on eight page, mimeographed report supporting its recommendation. Chairman of the Committee is George L. White, president, Newton-Waltham Bank & Trust Co.; vice chairman is Joseph C. Skinner, vice-president, Meredith & Grew Co.

Committee members are Orville O. Clapper, The Clapper Co.; Rev. W. Seavey Joyce, S.J., of Boston College; Giles E. Mosher Jr., Newton-Waltham Bank & Trust Co.; Warren W. Oliver, Newton Co-operative Bank; Grenfell A. Swim, The Gamewell Co.; Richard J. White, Richard White Sons, Inc., and John M. Wilson, The Uelnite Co.

In his report the Committee pointed out that approximately 20.6 acres in Boston adjoining the property in Newton already has been rezoned for garden apartments.

CHAIRMAN — Attorney Harry J. houses. They did so with the conviction that such a change in zoning would be detrimental to the long term good of "The Garden City" of Newton.

"They are disturbed that until now the request for zoning change has not been acted against. They wonder why the delay on the part of their elected representatives, when the concerned citizenry has already spoken. They watch with concern and the closest scrutiny all developments in this mat-ter."

Signers of the statement in-clude: T. E. Jewell, Rose Lor-ing, Joe W. Garrity, Joseph R. Stanton, Arnold Aron, Earl P. Stevenson, Malcolm M. Hub-bard, Mrs. J. W. O'Connor, Jean F. Dewing, Isidor Slotnik, Catharine L. Schenck, Morris Courtiss, William M. Brady, Raymond A. Rourke.

Support for the residents of Wards six and seven came today from an unex-pected source when Louis V. Orgera, Managing director of the Commonwealth Coun-try Club, center of the fu-ture, announced that at least one hundred and six-teen members of the club, all Newton residents, op-posed construction on their club grounds and wanted the club to remain as a golf Club.

Irving R. Young, 33 Burrage road, Newton, chairman of the Club's Board of Governors has formally notified the president of the Newton Board of Aldermen, stating in part:

"Many of the present mem-bership of the Club, including myself, are Newton residents very much interested in the Club, and we hope and plan for its continuation as a Golf Club after expiration of the present option (held by the promoters of the apartment project). We feel that rezoning the land for city-type apart-ments is unnecessary and un-warranted, and we strongly hope that the Board of Alder-men will have no reason to make the requested change."

A decision by the Board of Aldermen is expected soon.

Mayor Gibbs also observed that he had requested funds to buy three new heavy duty snow-fighters and had been allowed enough money only for two. "Last year I personally ob-served police cars operating without spare tires and with tires which had been worn smooth. Bradley said that the people of Newton want and expect adequate snow-fighting op-erations, but that a majority of the Aldermen refused to allow the Mayor funds for the pur-chase of snow-fighting equip-ment he says he needed.

"All of our heavy snow-fighting equipment is at least 10 years old, and several of our heavy-duty snow fighters broke down repeatedly during the storms of the past win-ter," Bradley stated.

"Consequently, I consider it a disservice to the public and an unwise economy to allow the Mayor funds to buy only two big snow-fighters when he says he needs three," Bradley stated.

Bradley declared that the Aldermen appropriated $6000 to have experts make a scien-tific study and submit a re-port on pay schedules only to have a majority of the Alder-men disregard the report when they received it.

Political Highlights

to replace the top officials of that important agency and to control its far-flung operations.

When Powers assailed the proposal as well as the motives behind it, everyone on Beacon Hill, including Volpe, knew the measure was as good as dead.

In the course of his criticism of Volpe's plan for replacing the high brass of the DPW, Powers gave the Governor quite a public tongue-lashing.

He accused Volpe of making "another fight for political power" and served notice that he was not going to allow the Governor to use his office for purely partisan purposes of gaining political patronage and appointments.

Ordinarily, those are fighting words, but it was strictly a one-way fight because Volpe made no reply.

To the casual observer it would seem that if Powers didn't actually break diplomatic relations with the Governor, he seriously fractured them.

Yet, there is no indication that Powers' searing blast at Volpe caused any change in the relationship of the two men. Powers announced at the start of the legislative session that he would support the Governor on non-partisan matters he considered for the public good but would battle him on issues he regarded as political. He has done exactly that, although Volpe hasn't had too many bills of major consequence which Powers believed to be in the public interest.

A couple of weeks ago, Volpe presented to the Legislature his plan for revamping the MTA. Powers promptly attacked it, defended MTA General Manager Thomas J. McLernon, whom Volpe was seeking to oust, accused Volpe of playing politics and charged that the Governor was not getting at the root of the problem of the deficit-ridden transit system.

Political observers interpreted that as a break between Powers and Volpe, but a few days later Volpe rode with Powers in the Evacuation Day parade in Powers' home South Boston section. Before the parade, Powers had McLernon as his guest at a luncheon.

Powers' opposition to the Governor's bill for revamping the MTA undoubtedly dooms that measure, just as it does the proposal for reorganizing the Public Works Department.

About the only controversial measure on which Powers and Volpe will be in agreement will be the Governor's recommendation for shaking up the Metropolitan District Commission. That is not going to do the Governor too much good, however, for his measure will be killed in the House and probably will never reach the Senate.

The relationship between Powers and Volpe is one of the most unusual in the recent history of Massachusetts politics. The two apparently are good friends. Volpe is the Governor. But every once in a while Powers gives him a verbal spanking right out in public and reminds him who is running things on Beacon Hill.

House Defeats Bill To Ban Conventions

It didn't attract too much attention because of more important developments, but a bill backed by Democratic State Committee Chairman John M. Lynch to abolish the convention system of endorsing the State tickets of the two political parties was quietly but overwhelmingly killed in the House of Representatives.

OUR READERS SAY

Future of Mankind

Editor, Newton Graphic:
Dear Sir,

On March 21, the conference on the ending of nuclear tests will resume at Geneva with the same participants, U.S., U.S.S.R., and Great Britain. President Kennedy has indicated that the delegation representing the United States will be empowered to negotiate seriously, to make concessions in exchange for Russian concessions.

President Kennedy said, on March 1, 1961 "I think the first area, of course, is in nuclear testing. That, I think, I am hopeful, we can reach an agreement on. . . . What progress can be made will depend on the good will on both sides. . . ."

President Kennedy's priority on an agreement on nuclear testing indicates that he recognizes its critical importance. It is in the interests of the United States itself to prevent other nations from developing nuclear weapons. At the present time our country possesses a near monopoly of nuclear power, shared militarily only with the Soviet Union. Our problems of security would be enormously complicated and our security itself drastically weakened, if nuclear weapons came into the possession of the twenty-five or so nations who have the necessary industrial capacity.

Of course, an agreement on nuclear testing must be accompanied by a system of adequate inspection and control, hopefully under international or United Nations auspices. This feature of the test ban would have great value because it would serve as a pilot program for the techniques which would be required for the broader inspection necessary for disarmament.

Surely the attainment of a peaceful world made secure by tested and practical disarmament techniques is a major goal for all humanity. The test-ban negotiations may be the last, best hope for mankind. They must not fail. Let us not adopt an over-emotional or cynical attitude. Let us encourage our negotiators to protect the future of mankind as well as the security of the United States.

Sincerely,
JEROME GROSSMAN

No Fluoride Stand

To the Editor:
In the municipal election in November, the voters of Newton may be asked to decide whether Newton's public water supply should be fluoridated.

Because of the controversial aspects of this issue, the League of Women Voters of Newton has received many inquiries as to the desirability of fluoridation. The League has taken no position, either for or against fluoridation, inasmuch as this subject has never been on our program.

The League program is selected by its members and consists of governmental issues chosen for concerted study and possible action based on the conclusions of these studies.

Adherence to this procedure, of taking a stand only after thorough study and consensus of our membership, helps to insure a considered and informed course of action.

We feel it is particularly important, at this time, to clarify the position of the Newton League in regard to this matter because of the recent erroneous reporting in some of the metropolitan newspapers of the position of the League of Women Voters of Brookline.

The Brookline League also had taken no position on fluoridation. It published prior to the March 7 Town election a "Voters Guide" which contained information on both sides of this issue.

The Boston papers made no mention of the fact that the pros and cons of the fluoridation issue were presented in this "Voters Guide," but printed a quotation against fluoridation made by the Brookline Citizen's Rights Committee and attributed this statement to the Brookline League. This error was subsequently retracted by both press and radio.

The League of Women Voters, whose purpose is to promote political responsibility, urges the voters of Newton to carefully weigh the arguments for and against this issue and to cast a thoughtful and informed ballot in November.

Free Library Receives Gift For Book Fund

The Newton Highlands Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle presented the trustees of the Newton Free Library with a check for $2120 at ceremonies held in the Highlands branch of the library recently.

"We are turning over to the library a fund which has been accumulating for fifty years," said Miss F. Mabelle Hurd, secretary-treasurer of the club as she handed the check to Mrs. George F. Brewer, president of the board of library trustees. Miss Hurd added that the money was intended to establish a book fund in the memory of this club which was started in Newton over eighty years ago.

Attending the meeting with Miss Hurd were: Mrs. Francis A. Rugg, vice president and five other members of the club: Mrs. Isaac Goddard, Mrs. Thomas J. Mavor, Miss Mary R. Stark, Miss Maud E. Stearns and Miss Laura D. Ward. Representing the Newton Free Library with Mrs. Brewer were Mrs. Seymour S. Getter, member of the library board and A. William Kunkel, city librarian.

Mrs. Rugg told how the club was founded in the summer of 1880 after three ladies from Newton Highlands visited a Chautauqua meeting in Framingham. They were Mrs. George G. Phipps, who later became their first president, Mrs. J. F. C. Hyde, and Mrs. E. J. Hyde. The club soon grew to include twenty-five active members who took the regular C.L.S.C. course presented in the monthly Chautauqua magazine. Several of these ladies received their diploma in 1884. On October 25, 1960 the club celebrated its 80th birthday. At that time the president was Mrs. Helen A. Ward. The Highlands C.L.S.C. is the second oldest club of its kind in Newton.

Glee Clubbers Rehearsing For Contest In May

Although the Highland Glee Club of Newton has given its 1961 spring concert, the singers are still meeting for rehearsals in preparation for the contest held annually by the New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs in which member clubs from all sections of New England compete for the gold cup, the coveted recognition of vocal supremacy among the singing clubs.

George H. Wright of Newton Centre, president of the Highland Glee Club and a vice president of the New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs, introduced to the club at the last rehearsal, William E. Bullock of Wollaston, president of the New England Federation, who announced that the contest this year will be held on Saturday, May 20th., and that the Wollaston Glee Club of Quincy which this year is celebrating its 60th anniversary will be host to the Federation's 41st annual contest in the North Quincy High School on that date.

Mr. Bullock also announced that the Clubs of the Federation will gather in Boston on the evening of April 15th for a social time and for entertainment which will be planned and conducted by the Highland Glee Club.

Another member of the Highland Club, Stuart J. Dewey of Watertown, is also a vice president of the New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs, as well as director of the General Radio Glee Club of Concord, Mass.

Newton Students On School Paper Editorial Board

Three Newton students were elected recently to the editorial board of the "TRIPOD", student publication of the Roxbury Latin School, West Roxbury.
Elected as one of two editors-in-chief was Gerald E. Warshaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Warshaver, 127 Gordon Road, Waban and as business manager was Peter Sutton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Maher, 34 Bonad Road, West Newton. Richard A. Goldfine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Goldfine, 256 Bonad Road, Chestnut Hill was elected one of the two associate editors.

The "TRIPOD", founded in March 1889, is now in its 73rd year of publication, old as school papers go but young in the 316 year history of this famous old classical school.

He is being assisted in this water safety work by Officer John Coffey of the Newton Police. Lessons are held at the pool twice weekly, through the cooperation of the country club officials.

First Report Shows $2,829 In Easter Seal Drive Here

The appeal to Newton residents to buy Easter Seals to aid crippled children and adults has resulted in an initial report of $2,829 contributed.

The announcement was made by Miss Ruth Burns, assistant vice president of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Co., and campaign area treasurer. The local goal is $5,000.

Christian A. Herter Jr., of Boston, general campaign chairman, at the same time, said the first statewide report on the 1961 appeal totaled $135,519.

"This generous response to date of the public to the needs of the physically handicapped," he said, "shows the Easter Seal campaign off to a good start, but we are a long way from the statewide goal of $245,000 which is the minimum amount needed if we are to maintain present programs and provide additional services which crippled children and adults so urgently need."

"We have every hope of reaching the goal if the residents of Massachusetts know that it means a better, happier life for all of our physically handicapped," Herter said.

Persons who have lost their Easter Seal envelope or did not receive one in the mail, may send their contributions to the authorized address of "Crippled Children," in care of the local post office. Such contributions will be credited to the local area.

Family Service Bureau Re-elects Mrs. K. Waite

The Annual Meeting of the Family Service Bureau of Newton was held recently in the Workshop of the Women's Club of Newton Highlands.

There was a large representative attendance from other Red Feather and various civic and church organizations. Rabbi Harold D. Kastle, Chairman of the Public Relations Committee of the Bureau, showed a slide presentation, "People with Problems," a graphic story of care work help told with colored slides and tape recorded script.

The voices of local board members used in the taped presentation added to the program's interest. Rabbi Kastle told the audience that the slides and tape would be available to any groups in the community interested in learning about Family Service.

Mrs. Kenneth J. Waite presided and was re-elected President with the following officers and new members of the Board:

striction on our travel account. "As the judge ruled in Superior Court, they had no power to place such a restriction on our out-of-state items; that if they have such a power it would severely restrict the School Committee in the proper operation of its duties.

"In other words," Mr. Freedman went on, "if we have to ask the Board of Aldermen for permission for our personnel or the School Committee to go outside the state on matters of concern to education in Newton, they then are taking over in part our rights to decide how the schools should be operated, for example in the recruitment of teachers, observation of the educational programs in other states, to send our personnel to visit colleges to establish a better liaison between college admission offices and the Newton high schools, etc.

"In any event the case the taxpayers won in Superior Court will be heard before the Supreme Judicial Court during the sitting in the first week in April."

Attys. Frederick G. Fisher Jr. and Blair Perry of Hale & Dorr, who gave their services without charge while representing the Newton taxpayers in Superior Court, will argue the case before the Supreme Court. The Aldermen's case will be argued by City Solicitor Matt B. Jones.

Under the restrictions placed by the Aldermen, the School Committee may expend out-of-state travel "for recruiting teachers outside the state and for sending members of the school professional staff to meetings of national organizations and conferences on subject matter areas and other professional requirements."

Aldermen voting in favor of the restrictions: Winslow C. Auryansen, Adelaide B. Ball, Harry L. Ham Jr., George L. Hicks, Charles F. Hovey, Charles H. Morang, John P. Nixon, Paul S. Rich, Warren Sutherland, Earle D. Wood, Wendell R. Bauckman, William H. Prentice.

Those opposed to the restrictions: Joseph G. Bradley, Melvin J. Dangel, William Glovsky, Charles Holly, William Hopkins, William Ripley, Harry Walen, John P. McCarthy.

Elected New President Of Fourth Form

Thomas Scheft, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Scheft, 101 Exeter Street, West Newton was elected president of the Fourth Form for the spring term at the Fessenden School, West Newton.

Athletic awards were won by Geoffrey Levy, 1181 Commonwealth Ave., for varsity basketball; James Fessenden, 472 Waltham Street, for junior hockey; Richard Weinberg, 265 Upland Avenue, Newton Highlands, for senior hockey.

Probe Needs

1960 which indicated an increase of about 4,000 dwelling units in 10 years. Of the total number of dwelling units in 1960 (26,117) 73% are owner occupied with 25% occupied by renters, and 2% listed as vacant. Little interest to date in urban renewal is due to the fact that only about 5% of the total houses are in a deteriorating or dilapidated condition, according to the 1960 census.

Multi-family housing should be used as a regenerative device, according to Lorenz M. Mather, executive director of the Newton Taxpayers Association, who discussed the tax implications of Newton's housing. He also recommended stricter regulation of present multi-family uses, revamping the Building Code and adopting a housing code.

Interest in the people who live in the various types of houses was the concern of Dr. Paul Deats. Suburbanites have been called "homogenized, conformists, status seekers," but we are becoming more like the city in that it enables us to live in a "rich pluralistic community" with people of all creeds, colors and national origins.

NEUROTIC FEAR OF MINORITIES

He stated we often have a neurotic fear of minority intrusions. These include the fear of loss of status, fear of loss of property value, fear of inundation and fear of conflict and disagreement. The refusal of bankers and brokers to assist prospective homeowners is one of the real problems in stamping out segregation.

Dr. Bowen, who took office at the meeting attended by more than 125, is active in many civic, religious and professional groups. He is chairman of the Advisory Committee of the John Elliot Counseling Service, as well as the Human Relations Committee of the Newton Council of Churches. Past president of the Newton TB and Health Association, he served as publicity chairman for the New Fair Housing Practices Committee. He is on the medical advisory committee of the Newton Visiting Nurse Association and the Newton Home Medical Care Program.

Chief of Outpatient Psychiatry at Newton-Wellesley Hospital, Dr. Bowen also is on the staff of Waltham, Rahmehann, Massachusetts Memorial, Burnwood and Valleyhead hospitals, and acts as psychiatric consultant to the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions and the Waltham Visiting Nurse Association. He is an instructor in neurology at Boston University School of Medicine and Sargent College, and is visiting lecturer in psychiatry at Andover Newton Theological School.

Elected directors-at-large of the Community Chest for three-year terms were: Wilbur W. Bullen, Mrs. Morgan S. Campbell, Donald C. Root and Mrs. Irene K. Thresher. William Carman will continue for another year as clerk.

Chosen to serve as institutional directors of the twelve member agencies of the Newton Community Chest were the following:

All Newton Music School—Winslow H. Adams, Mrs. Ernest F. Dietz, Miss Gretchen Clifford. Family Service Bureau—Mrs. Kenneth J. Waite, Robert L. Clinton, John A. Shaw. Newton Boys' Club—Norman E. MacNeil, Milton Shapiro, James F. Doherty. Newton Community Center—Mrs. Henry B. Shepard, Miss Ruth N. Eddy, Mrs. George D. Sprague. Newton Community Council—Miss Adelaide B. Ball, Dr. Charles E. Brown, Rabbi Murray I. Rothman. Newton Girl Scout Council—Mrs. Dwight P. Merrill, Mrs. more, Jr.

Services This Week Prepare For Easter Joy

This week, following Palm Sunday, is a busy one at the Newton Highlands Congregational Church with a comprehensive program of services being held.

Ten minute children's prayer services were held each morning at 8 o'clock; they will conclude tomorrow morning, Friday, at 9 o'clock with a special children's communion service.

Receptions were held throughout the week for all those who are joining the church, at which time members of the Pastor's Class met with the church officers.

Maundy Thursday will be observed tonight at 8 o'clock with the service of Tenebrae, Holy Communion and a reception of new members.

Tomorrow the Newton Highlands Congregational Church will unite with St. Paul's Church where Good Friday services will be held from 12 noon until 3 o'clock. Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, members of the Pastor's Class and their sponsors will hold a rehearsal in the sanctuary.

The Easter Sunday sunrise service will be held at 6 A.M. on the Charles River at the end of Annawan road; at 7 A.M. at the church a communion service will be held for members of the Pastor's Class and young people of the church. This will be followed by an Easter breakfast.

Two regular morning services will be held on Easter Sunday, at 9:15 and 11:00 A.M., with a special message from the minister, Rev. John Arthur Samuelson. The combined choirs, junior, youth, and senior, will sing at both services. Edward H. Hastings, organist and choirmaster, will be assisted by Philip Gowen, trumpeter. A prelude and anthem will be sung by the junior and youth choirs. The senior choir will sing "Alleluia" by Randall Thompson, and the combined choirs will join in the anthem, "Christ the Lord Hath Risen," by C. S. Lang.

The many music organizations at N.H.S. joined together last Friday night for the N.H.S. Music Night. Students, parents and friends crowded the auditorium to hear the A Capella Choir sing and the orchestra play some of the highlights of the evening.

Saturday night, seniors again returned to NHS for Senior Night. In the auditorium, seniors witnessed the comic skits and true talent of many of their fellows. This pleasant interlude was followed by dancing and chatting in the gym.

The Associates Council is planning a Bermuda Day early in May to raise money for the Foster Child Program. President Peter Sahlin appointed the following committees to handle the work: Rules chairman, James Shane; Tags and Sales chairman, Bob Johnson; Publicity chairman, Danny Wood. Fluoridation Proponents Organize Active Campaign Thirty-four Newton residents, representing various occupations as well as areas of the city, have accepted positions on the Citizens' Advisory Board of the Newton Citizens' Committee for Dental Health, it was announced this week by Mrs. Arnold Modell, of Waban, committee chairman.

The Advisory Board is still in the process of formation, Mrs. Modell pointed out, and its final membership is expected to total considerably more than thirty-four. "Our Committee is gratified," she said, "at having been able to gain the support of such a large group of prominent Newton residents for our efforts to achieve fluoridation, as evidenced by their willingness to accept membership on our Advisory Board."

The campaign of the Citizens' Committee to obtain the signatures of 2,500 registered Newton voters on a petition to place fluoridation on the ballot in Newton in 1961 as a referendum question is progressing satisfactorily, Mrs. Modell indicated. Many persons from all sections of the city are volunteering to help the Committee in various phases of its work, she said, adding that "there appears to be widespread and optimistic backing in Newton for the idea of fluoridation of the water supply, despite the setbacks that the idea has suffered recently in Brookline, Wellesley and Andover."

Members of the Committee's Advisory Board include Rev. John M. Balcom, Mrs. E. Graham Bates, Mrs. Albert Belsel, Jr., Mrs. Morgan Campbell, Mrs. Joseph R. Cotter, Mrs. Frank A. Day, Jr., Rev. Robert S. Drinan, S.J., Mrs. Herbert Dunphy, Rev. John O. Fisher, Mr. Franklin N. Flaschner, Rabbi Albert I. Gordon, Rabbi Israel J. Kazis, Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Kuebler, Mrs. Philip LeCompte.

Gibbs Proclaims Cancer Month

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs issued a proclamation today calling attention to the American Cancer Society's Cancer Crusade Month during April, and urging generous participation.

The proclamation pointed out that a million Americans are alive today "because of the efforts of the American Cancer Society and its dedicated program of research, education and service to the public."

Family life is too intimate to be preserved by the spirit of justice. It can only be sustained by a spirit of love which goes beyond justice.

Given away by her father, the bride's ballerina-length gown of pure silk organza was applied with taffeta. Her matching taffeta circlet was caught with an elbow-length illusion veil. She carried a cascade arrangement of white sweetheart roses.

Seek Social Studies Plan In Newton

The role which Newton could play in pioneering a program of social studies was outlined during a discussion recently before the Newton School Committee.

It came during a discussion of the curriculum by Wilson C. Colvin, junior high school consultant, and Charles W. Altree, head of the Social Studies Department at the two Newton high schools.

Both described the work of the "K-12 Committee" of Newton teachers attempting to draw up a planned curriculum in social studies from the kindergarten through the high school.

Such a program would include history, geography, economics and psychology taught in balance, and both educators felt Newton could pioneer in such a program. Mr. Colvin said his committee hoped to induce professionals in these fields to assist in setting up the program.

Mrs. Joseph C. Albano of West Newton was matron of honor for her sister, whose bridesmaid was Mrs. William Bryson of Needham.

George D. Guzzi Jr., of West Newton, cousin of the bride, served as best man. Ushering were Frank Ferrell of Bloomfield, N. J., Edmund Fogarty of Kearny, N. J., and John Bermingham of Dartmouth.

Miss L. Ann Conley, Dean of the Simmons College School of Nursing, spoke on the "New Trends in Nursing Education." Today about five per cent of the young women go into nursing.

A girl who wishes to go into professional nursing has three types of schools to choose from. There are Junior Colleges — including tax supported schools such as the Newton Junior College. In order to get a degree a girl must transfer to another school, taking five years in all. Then there are the senior colleges or Universities and the Hospital Schools.

There has been a rapid expansion in the number of colleges and Universities offering nursing courses and, at present, a larger per cent of the girls are attending colleges where they receive a degree rather than the hospital schools.

Medical Leaders Stress Need For Increased Atomic Bomb Readiness

Physicians of the Newton area heard medical leaders in the field of emergency disaster planning outline programs for coping with atomic attack or natural mass disasters at a meeting last Wednesday evening of the Charles River District Medical Society.
Disaster plans and drills are an absolute necessity for community hospitals which must be organized for mass medical care in case of emergencies, said Dr. Cameron O. Hogan of Wellesley Hills, chief of medical service of the Massachusetts Civil Defense Agency.
Dr. Hogan said he would like to see the principles of first aid and home nursing widely taught, particularly to school children.

Regardless of where an atomic bomb might drop, there would be a peripheral rim of survivors, likely to include some doctors, observed Dr.
Douglas A. Farmer of Needham, associate professor of surgery at Boston University Medical School.

Because these doctors would have the weight of handling casualties in case of any disaster, Dr. Farmer outlined emergency treatment of disaster injuries in many categories.

Survival of the wounded with many kinds of injuries including burns and shock often depends on immediate good medical care, Dr. Farmer said, but with severe radiation injuries, only a small group might be saved with treatment.

Dr. Farmer is active in the Medical Education for National Defense program known as MEND, organized by former President Eisenhower to inform medical school faculty members on disaster preparedness with the hope of including such information in medical school curriculums.

Dr. Joseph King of Needham, chairman of the disaster medical planning committee of the Charles River District Medical Society, acted as moderator.

Dr. William T. Van Huysen of Weston, Society president, is a member of the state committee on disaster medical planning.

Dr. Fiorentino Pina of Waltham, chairman of the district legislative committee, reported on current legislation concerning the medical profession.

65,000 Took Part In 'Y' Program In 1960

Attendance in physical education activities at the Newton YMCA totaled over 65,000 during 1960, according to reports heard at the March board of directors' meeting held recently at the Newton "Y."

The monthly meeting, presided over by President Eldred M. Peterson, heard the annual Physical Education Review presented by Edward R. DiPersio, physical director, and Robert G. Rowe, associate physical director. Robert Goldberg, president of the boys' Junior Leaders' Club of the "Y" was also on hand to give a brief description of the club's activities. James G. Lord, member of the Physical Education Committee and also a director of the "Y" offered an introductory statement.

The board was informed that classes and activities were held for men, women, boys and girls as well as family activities during the year.

A complete report of the new Businessmen's Athletic Club revealed that the club was filled to capacity and now had a waiting list of 20 men. Construction is nearing completion and it is expected to be ready for use shortly. When completed the facilities will include a private exercise room, lounge and television room, steam room, shower room, lockers and tote baskets.

This is in addition to the regular facilities of the "Y" which include a gymnasium, swimming pool, handball, squash courts, three tennis courts, large athletic field, weight lifting and boxing room and wrestling room.

The program for women has increased sharply in the past three years, according to the report. Slynastics classes are held each Tuesday and Thursday morning followed by volleyball. A women's varsity volleyball team is also active in state competition. Swimming instruction is offered each Tuesday and Thursday morning followed by a free swim. Swimming instruction is also offered on Thursday evenings. The girls' program consists of units of swimming instruction through life saving.

Other programs include family swims, tennis and SCUBA instruction, life saving, civil service classes, church basketball league, tournaments in various sports, softball, wrestling and weight lifting.

The next meeting of the board of directors will be held in April at which time a Youth Work review will be heard.

Budget Sliced By Aldermen

Among the funds knocked out of the budget by the Aldermen were those for a new aerial ladder truck which Fire Chief Frederick Perkins, Jr., has been trying to get for years and a new car for the chief. Alderman Earle D. Wood, chairman of the Finance Committee, said he did not believe the ladder truck was essential.

Police Requests Are Turned Down

The police department was denied the right to buy a radar recorder to detect speeders and a drunk-meter to ascertain the sobriety, or lack of it, of persons who have imbibed too freely. During a debate over a cut in the allowance for automotive equipment for the police department Alderman Bradley said he personally observed an accident last year in which a tire blew out of a police cruiser. He declared the cruiser was not carrying a spare tire, that the police department had no new tires and had to obtain one from a scrap heap.

Finance Committee Chairman Wood and President Wendell R. Bauckman both replied that the police department last year did not spend all the money allowed it, turned back $12,500 and that they couldn't understand why it should have been out of tires.

At one point during the meeting Miss Adelaide B. Ball tried to persuade her colleagues to restore $20 they had cut from the allowance for cleaning the Jackson Homestead. Her motion carried by a 12-10 vote, but President Bauckman ruled that 13 votes were needed to appropriate money or restore a budget cut.

The hottest debate of the night came over the salary schedule recommended in the Evans Report. The Mayor had said that the recommendations contained in the report were based on a careful and scientific study.

Alderman Wood, however, maintained that the city should not commit itself to the proposed pay schedule. "We do not agree with some of the recommendations," said Wood, referring to the consultant who made the survey. "How he did this is an enigma to some of us."

When Alderman Dangel, seconded by Bradley, moved for the acceptance of the Evans Report, Alderman William H. Prentice countered with the charge that such an action "would be ultra folly and would cause chaos." He said he couldn't "imagine anything more tragic." He claimed the report is not a sound or responsible one.

Morang pointed out that Brookline recently granted an 8 per cent raise to its employees and said other communities also have revised wages upwards. Dangel asserted that Newton police do get as much money as the police in some neighboring communities.

The Aldermen pruned approximately $38,000 from the police department budget. When the budget finally was approved, Alderman Bradley cast the lone vote against its passage.

FIRE DEPARTMENT GETS LARGE CUTS

Largest cuts by the Aldermen were made in the fire department budget. They slashed $21,781 from the budget for fire administration, $14,500 for the allowance for the care of fire department buildings, $54,159 from the item for new fire apparatus and equipment and $97,111 from the budget for the wire division of the fire department.

The Aldermen pruned approximately $38,000 from the police department budget. When the budget finally was approved, Alderman Bradley cast the lone vote against its passage.

BRADLEY HAS SARCASTIC WORDS

During the row Bradley remarked sarcastically that some Aldermen were contending they were voting to "cut salaries to improve employee morale."

Dangel's motion was defeated, 14-7. Those voting for the Evans Report were Bradley, Dangel, Charles Holly, William Hopkins, Theodore D. Mann, John P. McCarthy, Paul S. Rich, (Alderman Carleton P. Merrill, who was absent when the vote was taken, said the Evans Report if he had been in attendance.)

Recorded against the Evans Report were Alderman Winslow C. Auryanssen, Adelaide B. Ball, Charles H. Cosgrove, William Glosky, Harry H. Ham, Jr., George L. Hicks, Charles F. Hovey, Charles H. Morang, John P. Nixon, William H. Prentice, Warren A. Sutherland, Harry L. Whalen, Earle D. Wood and Wendell R. Bauckman.

Here are some of the other rollcalls on the budget: A motion by Bradley to grant the raises recommended by the Mayor for rated city laborers was defeated 14-8. Voting for the motion were Alderman Bradley, Ball, Dangel, Hicks, Hopkins, Mann, McCarthy, and Merrill.

Recorded against it were: Auryanssen, Cosgrove, Glosky, Ham, Holly, Hovey, Morang, Nixon, Prentice, Ripley, Sutherland, Walen, Wood and Bauckman. A motion to give the police a $300-a-year raise instead of $200 was rejected 15-8.

Voting for the $300 raise were Bradley, Dangel, Hicks, Mann, McCarthy, Merrill, and Sutherland. The 15 who defeated the motion were Auryanssen, Ball, Cosgrove, Glosky, Ham, Holly, Hopkins, Hovey, Morang, Nixon, Prentice, Ripley, Walen, Wood and Bauckman.

Rejected 14-9 was a motion by Bradley to give the firefighters the full raise recommended by the Mayor. A motion to restore funds to the police budget for the purchase of a radar recorder was beaten 9-14.

Those voting in the affirmative were Bradley, Cosgrove, Holly, Hopkins, Mann, McCarthy, Morang, Prentice, and S

Mass. Women Voters Meet
In All-Day Session Today

The first all day School of Metropolitan Affairs will be held today, Thursday April 6, at Ford Hall, Brandeis University, Waltham, from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The School is this year's major project for the Metropolitan Boston Planning Council of the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts.

Mrs. Leston L. Havens, the Newton League of Women Voters representative to the Planning Council, said that Newton is one of the twenty-five official members within the MDC district.

A morning panel, moderated by Mrs. Gregory Wolfe, will consider Boston's potential, and how planning can help achieve it. Ralph Kaminsky, deputy director, Greater Boston Economic Study Committee, will present the professional planner's view of land use and transportation programs in the area.

Greater Boston's economic potential from the business man's point of view will be discussed by Charles A. Coolidge, president of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce. Lastly, Hon. John E. Powers, president of the Massachusetts Senate will examine the political problems of metropolitan planning and what can be done about them now.

The afternoon sessions, (luncheon will be available in the cafeteria) will be discussion seminars, moderated by League women, treating the different facets of the morning subjects. Representative James deNormandie, of Lincoln, will look thoroughly at the question of local autonomy with the hope that some current fears will be dispelled. Allan Morgan, executive secretary, Massachusetts Audubon Society, will describe the open space pattern, recreation and conservation, public and private. Daniel Ahern, executive secretary of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce, will bring up to date the actual progress in metropolitan cooperation, and Donald Graham, planning administrator, Boston Redevelopment Authority, will describe the extent of planning and execution of urban renewal programs on a Metropolitan basis.

The school's wide appeal has generated invitations to conservation groups, civic organizations, planning board members and legislators throughout the region. Mrs. Leston Havens, LA 7-7108, will be able to supply further information to any Newtonites who wish to attend.

Dessert and social hour will be at 7:30 p.m. followed by the business meeting at 8. Lasell Head
Predicts Big
College Spurt

There is a great need for expansion of public community colleges and other forms of higher education, both public and private, in Massachusetts to meet the growing school population, Dr. Blake Tewksbury, Lasell Junior College president, declared at meeting of College Club in Boston last Saturday.

He spoke on "What Share Shall the Junior Colleges Bear?" Although private education in the state is unexcelled, the Lasell president said, there is a desperate need for additional resources for higher education.

He pointed out that the college age population in Massachusetts is expected to grow from 265,000 to 337,000 in 1965 and 369,000 by 1970. At Lasell, he said, only one of every four applicants will be accepted for next year in contrast to one in three this year. "Massachusetts will have to expand its public facilities greatly if places are to be found for those whom the private institutions cannot serve or for those who cannot afford existing colleges. The Junior College may well provide the solution to filling the need," Dr. Tewksbury declared.

The Newton educator said that Lasell was the first junior college to be established in the United States more than 100 years ago. He told the gathering that the most important function of the junior college is to provide informed guidance for the student.

Miss Caryl MacLaughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. MacLaughlin of 28 Kingswood Rd., Auburndale, a senior at Cornell University in Ithaca, N. Y., has been named to the Dean's List. She plans to teach next year following her graduation in June.

Felice Bonica of 29 Pleasant St., West Newton, has been chosen a delegate from the Young Republican Club of Tufts University, who will attend the annual election of the Massachusetts Council of Young Republican Clubs. It will be held April 15 at Harvard University.
